

Transrail proposal faces another setback

Eligibility for federal exemption to be examined

By STEPHEN BJORK

WILMINGTON - Another hurdle has been placed in front of New England Transrail's (NET) proposal to construct a solid-waste transfer facility on the Olin property. The federally regulated Surface Transportation Board (STB) has ordered a halt to its environmental review of the property until it makes a ruling as to whether the NET proposal is even eligible for the railway exemption it has been seeking.

The Towns of Wilmington and Woburn, along with a coalition consisting of state officials, the National Solid Wastes Management Association (NSWMA) and others, have worked to block NET from the site. Environmental concern is a primary motivator for local opposition to construct-

'Extreme Plaza Makeover'

Wilmington Plaza to be re-done

By STEPHEN BJORK

WILMINGTON - Get ready for a brand new Wilmington Plaza. DeMoulas Supermarkets, Inc. is planning a major renovation for Wilmington Plaza, which will include the demolition of the current structure. In order to avoid interruptions in business, a new building, roughly matching the dimensions of the existing structure, will be built directly behind the familiar building. Additionally, plans call for three additional buildings to be built on

BOS endorses I-93 interchange alternatives

By STEPHEN BJORK

WILMINGTON - The Board of Selectmen voted 4 to 1 on Monday evening to endorse three of the nine interchange designs being considered for the area of Interstate-93 located between the existing interchanges at Route 125 and Dascomb Road.

Director of Planning & Conservation Carole Hamilton opined that design Alternatives

4, 7, and 9 would offer the most benefit to Wilmington by offering access to currently inaccessible parcels of land on both sides of the highway, while resulting in less impact to wetlands than several of the other design alternatives.

The Massachusetts State Ethics Commission today fined former Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) Bureau of Waste Management Analyst Michael Rostkowski $10,000 for violating the state's conflict of interest law, M.G.L. c. 268A, by receiving compensation from Mass Environmental Associates

(MEA) in connection with a Wilmington landfill project in which Rostkowski participated while he was a DEP analyst.

New playground for NIS

Sons of Italy step in to help out

By VICTORIA ELLSWORTH

WILMINGTON - The students at the North Intermediate School in Wilmington are among the latest beneficiaries of the Wilmington Sons of Italy's generosity. The Angelo Giuseppe Roncalli Lodge #2183 of Wilmington donated $35,000 to build a new playground and replace old swing sets, seesaws and other equipment that no longer met the Americans with Disabilities Act requirements.

"The project is something the Town really wanted to do, but could not fit into its budget,"

A monument acknowledging the generosity of the organization was placed on the grounds as a lasting tribute to the deceased members of the Sons of Italy. ## Pinwheels For Peace

Pinwheels For Peace- Steve Curran and Dan Vigneau along with their Pinwheels for Peace at the Wilmington Middle School. (Maureen Lamoureux photo)

Wilmington Middle School students created a pinwheel for a program called Pinwheels for peace.

They wrote their thoughts about "respect, tolerance, and living in harmony with others" on one side of the pinwheel. The writings are poetry, prose, haiku, or essay-style, whatever writing form they wished to use to express themselves.

On the other side, they drew a picture or design to visually express their feelings.

Students assembled these pinwheels and on June 13th everyone in school will "plant" their pinwheels outside as a public statement and art exhibit/installation. The spinning of the pinwheels in the wind will symbolically spread their thoughts and feelings about peace throughout the town, country and the world!

Today's students are born

Vanity goes up in smoke

50lbs of marijuana found in newly purchased vanity

By JAYNE W. MILLER

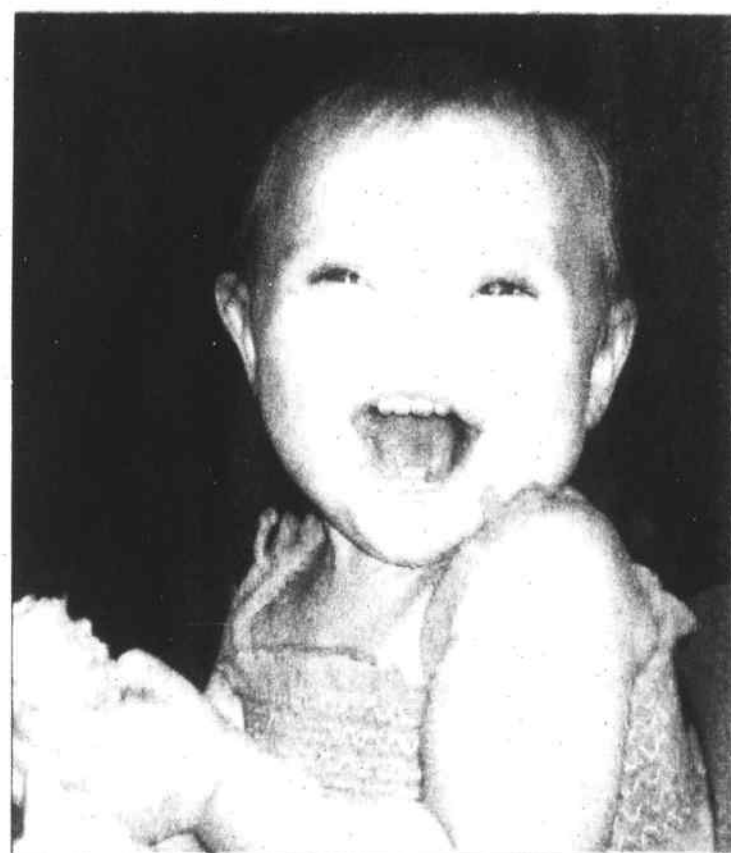

TEWKSBURY - Last week a Billerica couple found more than packing tape and foam in the box with their new bathroom vanity. Upon unpacking the vanity the surprised homeowners discovered an estimated 50 lb cache of marijuana packed into two bales inside.

The packing box did not appear tampered with prior to purchase, confirmed Sgt. Frank Mirasolo of the Billerica Police Department. Sgt. Mirasolo also confirmed the estimated street value of the unexpected find at about $50,000, or $800 to $1,000 per pound.

The cabinet, manufactured by Glacier Bay, was purchased at the Tewksbury Home Depot located at 85 Main Street on Thursday, June 8, according to

Kaycee is a fighter

...and you can help in her battle

By VICTORIA ELLSWORTH

WILMINGTON - Neuroblastoma is a form of cancer that occurs in infants and young children. The cells of this cancer usually resemble very primitive developing nerve cells found in an embryo or fetus.

Kaycee Marie MacDonald faces her first birthday with a tumor that has grown in her abdomen up from her pelvis to her heart and back to her spine. She was diagnosed in early May just two months after she and her family (mom, Kerri; Dad, Michael; and big sister, three-and-a-half year old Kyleigh) moved to their new home in Wilmington. Her father Michael, grew up in Wilmington and her mother Kerri grew up in Tewksbury.

Treating this condition is a costly process, not only in terms of money, but also in terms of physical and emotional strength. Luckily for Kaycee, she is surrounded by family and friends who add their strengths to hers.

"We have an excellent support system," states Kerri. "My parents have put their lives on hold for us. Aunt Traci took care of Kyleigh the entire time Kaycee was in the hospital. My friend and next-door neighbor

TAX SAVINGS FOR INVESTORS

Should you consider taxes when making investment decisions: buy, hold, sell? How can you minimize their effect on your portfolio?

First, make the most of tax-advantaged accounts. Max out your contributions to retirement accounts. This not only defers taxes on the investments, it also lowers your adjusted gross income so you can qualify for more deductions. It may even help you ward off dreaded alternative minimum tax.

Take capital losses to offset capital gains. While you can't buy back an asset sold at a loss for at least 30 days, you can replace it by buying into a similar holding, perhaps in the same sector. Buying mutual funds? Be careful not to make your purchase just before the fund's distribution date. You'll get an immediate gain—and an immediate tax liability, too.

Win-win deal: Contribute appreciated assets to charity. You get to deduct the whole value yet pay no tax on the appreciation.

Smart tax-savers depend on our help. We're the tax people at:

See 'Louis Armstrong' playing the music he made famous

The Wilmington Arts Council proudly presents the 26th annual Art Show this weekend on Saturday and Sunday, June 17 and 18. Our theme this year is "art and music" with the John Metrona Trio playing on Sunday from 2 to 4 P.M. We will also have a surprise guest appearance of "Louis Armstrong" who will talk about his life and play his music!

The exhibit will include close to 100 entries. We have three professional artists who will judge the show and give out ribbons and cash prizes for first place in each category. The categories are oils and acrylics, watercolor, photography and mixed media. The Arts Council also presents a special award for their favorite piece of art.

The hours of the show are 10 to 4 on Saturday, June 17 and 1 to 4 on Sunday, June 18. The show, which is free and open to the public, will be held at the Wilmington Arts Center located at 219 Middlesex Avenue across from the Congregational Church. You may see just how talented your friends and neighbors are!

Letters to the editor

Local Heroes surpasses the 2,000 mark

Dear Editor,
Last week Local Heroes hit the 2,000 mark! Last Wednesday night Local Heroes shipped 24 packages overseas to our local men and women serving overseas in the military, that brings the total to 2,005 since we started in November of 04. I would like to personally thank all the committee members who have met every Wednesday night for over a year and a half. The dedication of the committee and many, many people and organizations has made Local Heroes a project that has been a wonderful show of support for our servicemen and women. They truly appreciate all the goods shipped over and we have two scrapbooks full of thank you letters and pictures as well as four American Flags that have flown over various bases in Iraq and Afghanistan. Local Heroes is now assisting a Army Chaplin with setting up a Recreation Tent at a base in Iraq. If anyone would like to make a donation or has a address of a friend or loved one currently serving overseas in the military you may contact me at (978)658-3000 or our web site www.mass-local-heroes.org. We must keep these brave men and women in our thoughts and prayers - remember, we are here because they are there. Thank you.

Tewksbury Short-sighted

Dear Editor,
It is with extreme disgust that I write this letter. The shortsighted, head-in-the-sand mentality on display in Tewksbury regarding the funding of our school system is so disturbing that it would be funny if it weren't so scary. For all of the voters that claimed they couldn't swing a few hundred dollars more so that we don't have overcrowded classes think about what you actually spend your money on. How many of you spend $4 or $5 a day at Dunkin Donuts on your way to work (that's $1250 a year)?

This is about priorities, and clearly a slim majority of citizens in Tewksbury have no clue as to what should be important. We as a country are falling farther and farther behind the rest of the world when it comes to science and math education, yet our high school students can't even meet their requirements in those areas because the facility is so out of date. We have large classes that are about to get larger.

Who in their right mind would move into our town with a family now? The high school may lose accreditation, we as a community have demonstrated our disregard for the difficulties faced by our schools, so why would anyone move here? When my family moved here in 2000, we looked around and saw a new library, a new police station, a new middle school, a junior high being renovated and decided that this was a community that valued the town infrastructure. Clearly this is no longer true. While we build a new senior center (which we're all for), what are we doing for the next generation? On Saturday we kicked them to the curb. My wife and I are now going to have to reconsider our long-term plans. Should we find a private school and stay in Tewksbury? Should we move somewhere else that values public education? These are choices that we now have to look at. If this community wasn't willing to make this minor investment in our children's education, what's going to happen when we need to build a new high school, or renovate some of the elementary schools? We no longer trust this community to make the right choice.

Maybe people will say, "fine, go, we don't want you here anyway." That's their right. But know that we are active in this community. We coach teams, are active in our church, donate to local charities, and generally participate in community life. When people like us leave, and more like us don't move into town because of the black mark on our school system, this town will suffer for it. Remember June 10, 2006 as the day you voted your property values down!

Bruce Panillitis
Tewksbury

Successful celebration

Dear Editor,
On Sunday, June 11, the Wilmington Historical Commission sponsored a "Celebration of Scouting" at the Wilmington Town Museum. The Museum was proud to display the work of Boy and Girl Scouts from the Town of Wilmington.

Special attractions were the Wilmington Historic Tool Exhibit created by Eagle Scout Matthew Marden, the Wilmington Cemetery Inventory (1793-1922), created by Eagle Scout Andrew Otovic, and a new picnic table for the Museum grounds donated by Junior Girl Scout Troop #1110.

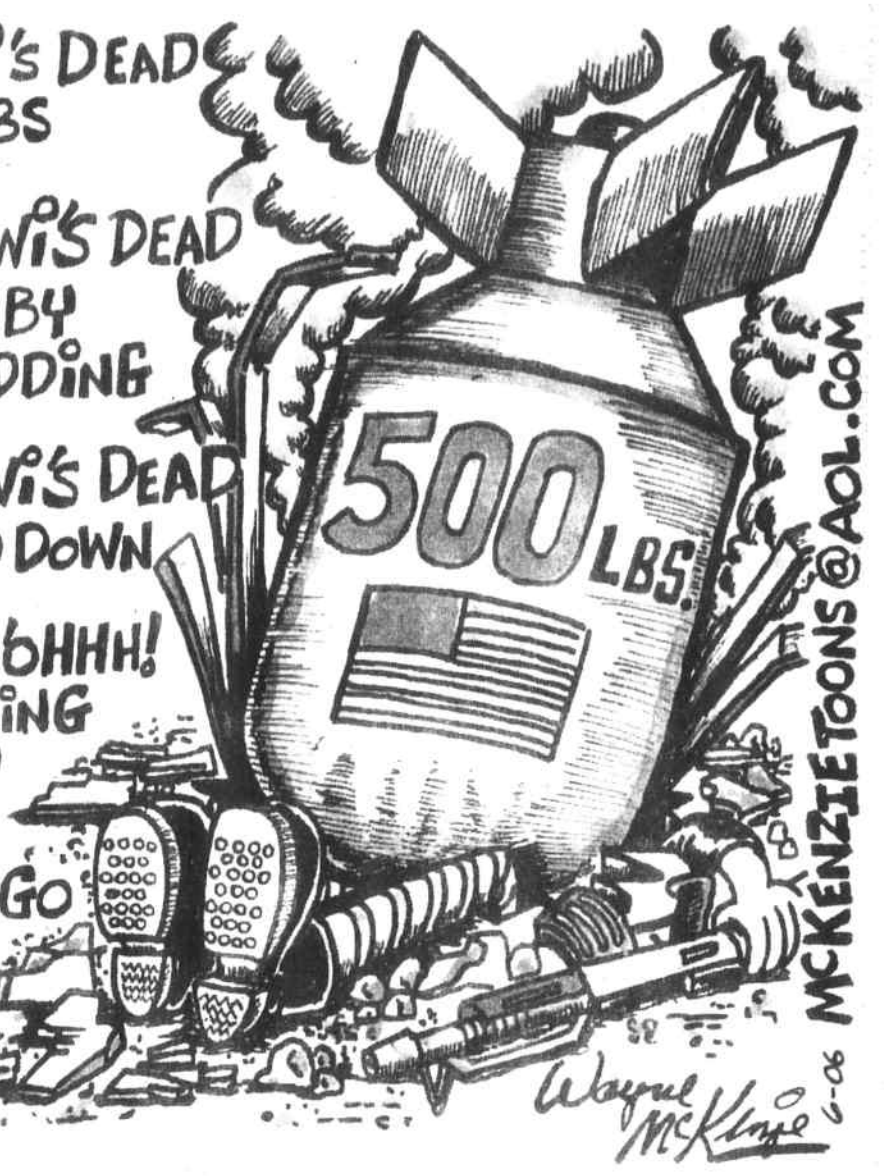

W fortunate in having a beautiful sunny day for this event and visitors were able to view the exhibits and enjoy the Museum grounds. In addition to the wonderful work of the Boy and Girl Scout groups involved, the Town Museum would like to thank other people who worked to make this event a success: Adele Passmore, Steve Berghaus, the Wilmington Company of Minutemen, the Garden Club, the Public Buildings Dept., the DPW and, of course, the Wilmington Historical Commission. It is the dedication and hard work of our citizens that makes the Town Museum such a valuable asset for us all.

The Wilmington Tool Exhibit will remain as a permanent exhibit in the Museum's Carriage House. Stop by any time the "Open%o flag is out, or call the Museum at 978-658-5475 to make an appointment.

Fortnight in Review

by Jayne W. Miller

A little less than 4900 braved yet another soggy Saturday to vote in last weekend's election. While a small number overall, it represents more than double the voter turnout in April's election where the Community Preservation Act triumphed. About 29% of registered voters in town came out to vote solely on education issues and the best that can be said of the turnout is that the victory of question 1 and the defeat of question 2 were well beyond a margin of 8 votes.

I've read reports that people didn't know this vote was even happening or of locals that didn't bother to head to the polls. Not in my neighborhood. We emailed each other, lobbied each other, reached out to spread the word and remind each other to make time to vote. One of my neighbors even took another neighbor to the polls because she could not drive herself having recently had major surgery.

This vote was important to many people. And the turnout illustrates 3 kinds of voters: 1) those that stay informed about local politics and go to the polls, 2) those that do not stay informed and do not go vote, and 3) those that do not stay informed and still vote.

I'm not sure which is worse: uninformed non-voters or uninformed voters?

Many newspaper articles and some commentators seem to want to find a large message here, a clear message, if you will, searching for meaning in the chaos. Just to recap, question 1, a measure raising $687,000 for furniture and computers for the high school in a short term, minute increase in property taxes - passed. Question 2, a $1.8 million proposition 2 1/2 override that would have balanced the school budget and added teachers to our system for a permanent increase of $160 (in the first year), failed. In fact, overrides are failing all over the state, for those that even make it to the ballot.

Education funding is complicated. Making it accessible to parents and residents is the role of elected officials, helping residents understand the nature of the budget, expectations about what is reasonable and what can be expected in the future. It seems to me that the folks of U-25 worked exceptionally hard for several months to get something done not just to stem the bleeding in our schools, but actually improve the situation. Their dedication and fortitude is commendable and I hope we'll see them again next year, in even bigger numbers, trying to do the right thing for the kids.

And I hope the economy and consumer confidence improves such that we can afford to do the things we need to do to make education in Tewksbury robust. Until then, though, I'm afraid the schools are fighting a sort of financial inertia destined to end in poor literacy, lower testing scores, and an inability for Tewksbury students to compete academically for limited college spots.

The school committee will be very busy in coming weeks making necessary cuts to meet the budget. Watch this space to see if we can swallow the bitter pill to come.

Disappointed in Tewksbury

Dear Editor,
Last Saturday's override vote was a huge disappointment. I understand that of the 2500+ people who voted against the override, that some are on a very tight fixed income and just cannot afford the increase no matter how dire the need. But other than that reason I don't understand how anyone could have voted against the override. The Tewksbury School system is about to be in a complete crisis. Another local paper reported that some town officials questioned the wisdom of the override. I sincerely hope that this was a misquote. Any town official not full-heartedly supporting the override, should not be a town official, unless they have another plan prepared to fund the school system with the money it so desperately needs. Tewksbury currently ranks just about bottom of the list in this state in per pupil spending, and after this election I'm sure we'll have clear title of bottom of the list. Being bottom of the barrel should not be acceptable to any town official or citizen. Where is their pride and priorities?

Diane Morris

P.S. A sincere thanks to Jamie Cutelis and the U-25 group for their tremendous effort that is so much appreciated.

Good People of Tewksbury

Good People of Tewksbury, Shame on you!! Why? I have just found out that our people do NOT care about the education and well-being of our most precious resources - our children. Even as I type out the words: I cannot believe it!

I have enjoyed living in Tewksbury and was truly under the impression that my children would have a wonderful childhood in this sunny community. I am rethinking this opinion. I suppose they can still have a wonderful childhood. I will continue to raise them to be respectful, confident, charitable citizens of the world, however, it stops there. Once they leave my 24 hours care and get to school; they will be subjected to a learning environment that is overburdened and literally bursting at the seams. One that has a good curriculum, but can't teach it well because of over sized classes. And if you need some help - well forget that - there isn't enough time, personnel or resources.

Who do we blame? Public education! Teachers! Superintendents! Kids that don't want to learn! Parents that can't control their kids! None of these are to blame. Look in the mirror. We are to blame. The Good People of Tewksbury. All of us - citizens, business people, civil servants, community members, leaders and voters. We have let our children - our future - down.

How can this be? Tewksbury is a nice town to live in. Our town is made up of civil minded people. Charity givers, people who make a difference. Just look at all the statues and sculptures - memorials, plaques and remembrances. We have some of the best equipped and astatically pleasing public buildings in the area. I offer proof in the town's Police Department, Public Library and South Street Fire Station, not to mention the new Senior Center. Members of our community and visitors alike have lovingly referred to these buildings as the "Tai Mahals of Tewksbury". All these wonderful things our community has to offer and our most precious resources will be missing out on something so basic, so fundamental - a solid foundation. An education - the building blocks of future citizens, business people, civil servants, community members, leaders and voters. I say again - SHAME ON US!!!

Susan LoChirco-O'Neill

Let's Hear it!!

Your Two Cents...

I completely agree with the person regarding signs everywhere. There should be a fine, and that goes for people who put up yard sale signs and don't remove them and politicians who leave their signs on public property. This is a form of pollution.

Ms. Sullivan,

Are you serious? I'm glad you do not do my books. Whoever heard of paying the bill THEN questioning it and looking for a credit?

Wilmington

Our DSL service is still non-existent following the moving of our offices. Our good friends over at Verizon are, indeed, superstars in the field of customer service. Instead of the standard 14-day interruption in DSL service that inexplicably accompanies a change of address - and of which we were never made aware until after the move - we've recently been informed that our DSL service will not be up and running until June 26th.

We are limping along on a temporary dial-up system (hastily established in our office's kitchen and dubbed the Internet Cafe), so we are able to retrieve submissions sent to twocents@yourtowncrier.com, but for convenience sake, please continue to send Your Two Cents submissions to crietwocents@yahoo.com for the immediate future.

Quick Health Tips

by Dr. Leslee Quick

Short Leg?

Many of my patients come in for the first time and say "I've been told I have a short leg." Did you watch Will & Grace's episode with Bernadette Peters and her short leg? I loved that one. But let's shed some serious light upon this subject.

You, too, may have been told you have one leg shorter than the other, you may actually feel it, or you may not know it at all. Do you find yourself leaning more on one side? Or do you feel that one leg does more work, takes a longer stride or lifts higher when you walk? You could have a "short" leg. But discovering this doesn't actually mean that one leg is shorter than the other or vice versa.

Leg length discrepancies are either due to an anatomical variation or created by impaired movement.

Your legs are made up of 4 bones: the tibia or "shin bone," fibula, smaller sister to the tibia, patella or knee cap, and femur (a.k.a. the thigh bone). Most often when one of the major bones, either the femur or tibia, is shorter on one side than the other it is called a structural or "actual" short leg. This anatomical variation isn't common.

Rather, the majority of people with a leg length difference have what is termed a "functional" short leg. The leg length isn't structurally different and can - in lieu of degeneration - be corrected. This discrepancy is usually caused by an uneven pelvis, most commonly due to movement restriction (subluxation).

In order to best explain this let's delve back into anatomy 101. Try to visualize the following explanation to get the best understanding.

Your spine terminates at the bottom with your sacrum and tail bone, or coccyx. The sacrum attaches to pelvis (made up of three different bones) via the sacro-iliac joints and their corresponding ligaments. Your thigh bone (femur) attaches to the pelvis by a socket-type joint and ligaments in which the balled head of the femur lies within the cupped space of the pelvis.

If the pelvis is turned or torqued, the femur, likewise, moves with it. If the pelvis is placed in an extended position - like when you raise your knee high to your chest - the femur raises, and vice versa. If the pelvis is "stuck" in this position, this raised femur creates the appearance of a "short leg." This torque of the pelvis is what is usually the cause of a short leg. The opposite effect can also occur in which the pelvis is rotated forward - the movement of kicking your leg back. This creates a lengthening of the leg by pulling the femur down and creates the illusion of a longer leg. Either way, the restrictions create this functional discrepancy.

The most common causes of functional short legs include subluxations of the pelvis, sacrum or lumbar spine. These subluxations can be created or further exacerbated by biomechanical inefficiencies of the foot, knees or hips. Short leg syndrome that can be visualized on an x-ray and upon other diagnostic procedures include palpable assessment of the pelvis for immobility or subluxation. Other, specific measuring tools can also be used to determine the difference between the two types of leg length discrepancies.

Now remember, your body is a massive kinetic chain. Cases of leg length inequalities can manifest itself in a number of secondary problems including: shoulder, neck and back pain, headaches, leg or knee pain.

In cases of structural leg length discrepancies a heel lift is usually required as determined by measurements and x-ray analysis. On the other hand, functional leg discrepancies most often can be corrected with manipulation of the subluxated areas to realign and bring back biomechanical integrity. Concurrently, muscle structure is usually compromised around the pelvis or restricted area when one is stretched or shortened for long periods by the pelvis' movement or lack thereof. Often, muscle work is needed to fix and then strengthen the muscles around the pelvis in order to hold the correct posture.

In most children I see with cases of pain in the knees and back arising from sports, I see the above-mentioned pelvic inequity about eighty to ninety percent of the time. More than a few large sets of muscles insert on the pelvis and femur. If the pelvis is subluxated in either direction it will create tension on one side and an opposite laxity on the opposite, which throws off biomechanics of the kinetic chain. Often minor adjustments of the pelvis and realigning the leg lengths even out the muscles and bring back the biomechanical integrity to the knees, lessening or abating many knee aches. As stated above, however, the corresponding muscles need to be addressed in order to achieve proper healing.

One note of importance is that the muscles themselves can create the problems rather than the other way around. A chronically pulled muscle can pull on the pelvis or a weak one cannot hold the pelvis correctly, creating the movement restriction or visualization of a short leg. In addition, those of us who are always "stressed" or have reproductive issues most often will develop a pelvic restriction and short or long leg due to the fact that the organs, nerves and muscles of these areas are not mutually exclusive of each other. The nerves that innervate the adrenals and reproductive organs also innervate more than a few pelvic stabilizing muscles. If one of those components is not working correctly, it will create a dysfunction in the corresponding areas.

Remember, correcting such a problem can be immediate or take time, depending on the length of time the problem has existed. Children generally respond quickly, whereas we hard-headed adults tend to wait out the problem until it is too annoying to handle. I see it every day! When this happens the results will more likely take time to correct itself. The body doesn't like change. If it takes time to create the problem it will take time to correct it. How many good diets work overnight?

But making the correct changes now can be important for overall and long-term musculo-skeletal health. By having your postural alignment checked you can avoid problems later on, staying away from invasive procedures down the road. And you won't have to be self-conscious about people staring at you like in Will & Grace.

Here's to your health, naturally.

Walking toward a cure

My name is Fran Keough. I will be participating in the Susan G. Komen 3-day Breast Cancer Walk on August 4, 5, and 6.

A close friend of mine, Pat Scine was diagnosed with Breast Cancer in 1998. In January 2006, she found out it was terminal. Pat may have two years to live.

I sat down with Pat and she told me that her niece, Donna, who had three beautiful children and for whom Donna's Donuts in Tewksbury was named, died at the very young age of 31 to Breast Cancer. Pat's mother, sister, and aunt also had cancer-related deaths. Knowing her family history, she went for check-ups regularly. Because of the frequency of her check-ups, she is the first one in her family to live past the age of 50.

On April 25th, Pat celebrated her 55th birthday and she wanted to share some advice:

1. Don't play with your health - go for your check-ups
2. Listen to your body - you know it better than the doctors do.

3. Tell the doctors what you're feeling.
4. Know and enjoy the quality of life.

Her final piece of advice is to keep fighting - don't let cancer win.

It was then that the feeling of helplessness came over me again. My mother, Elaine Keough, died of cervical cancer in 1993, and now my close friend Pat is terminal with Breast Cancer.

Breast Cancer has taken many lives, not just those of women, but of men also. This walk is very important to me. If we can spare one family the grief of losing a loved one to any kind of cancer, this walk will have served its purpose. We can only make that possible with our donations to find that cure. I can't do this alone; we need to do this together.

That is why, for a minimum donation of $15, I will proudly carry the name of your loved one on a custom-made T-shirt during my walk. Your loved one may have a different form of cancer - I am walking for all kinds.

Please help and support those fighting against cancer, and also give me the support and strength I need to carry me through this 60-mile walk to its full journey.

Remember - go for your check-ups. Early detection can save your life.

My advice for the people who live by the saying, "why fix it if it ain't broken," is to lose that attitude. It was that saying that took my mother's life.

Please send donations to Fran Keough, PO Box 902, Wilmington, MA 01887. Donations will be accepted with appreciation throughout the summer, but must be received by Friday, July 14th in order to include a loved one's name on my T-shirt.

P.S. - I love my mom and Pat.

Earning belts; learning self-respect Communication and Karate at Wilmington Middle School

Splitting boards with their feet was the culmination of the Martial Arts Empowerment Program for sixth grade Middle School students who recently completed a leadership empowerment program.

For the second year the Wilmington Family Counseling Service, Inc. offered this program under the auspices of a United Way of Merrimack Valley grant. The group is a collaboration with the Wilmington Public Schools and Master James Kenney Silver Lake ATA Taekwondo.

The 22 students were energized by the martial arts experience for which they earned orange belts as well as the group discussions in which they learned leadership skills like respecting others and themselves, communicating in ways others will hear, and asserting themselves positively.

"My son thoroughly enjoyed this program. He was proud of himself and it added to his self esteem," explained one parent on a program questionnaire. Another parent was enthusiastic about her daughter being more "positive and optimistic."

"My greatest joy as a principal has been watching students blossom through the caring efforts of teachers, other staff, and programs like this one - I wish all of our students could have participated!" Kate Conway, Middle School principal, exclaimed.

"This program has been a great collaboration between the Wilmington Schools, Silver Lake Taekwondo, and ourselves much to the benefit of the students who grew in stature and friendship and self-regard," Carol Golub, Ph.D. Executive Director "It is wellworth our efforts to secure United Way funding which hopefully we have for another year."

Barbie Ann McHugh named top 5 finalist in VH1's Song of the Year Contest

Wilmington native Barbie Ann McHugh recently received the honor of being named a Finalist by the Song of the Year (http://www.songoftheyear.com)! songwriting contest. Song of the Year is an international songwriting contest supporting VH-1's Save the Music Foundation. The Song of the Year judges are some of the biggest names in music including many Grammy Award winners.

Song of the Year is excited to recognize Barbie for her exceptional songwriting ability for the song "This Dance". Barbie competed against songwriters from all over the world for this honor. When asked what inspired the song Barbie commented that it's a song written to her son. The main theme of the song is a mother/son song that would be played at a wedding.

Currently Barbie is concentrating on her lyric writing career collaborating with companies in Nashville, Tennessee and Hollywood, California where she hopes upcoming artists or established artists will one day perform her songs.

Cassie Grasso of Wilmington, stopped by local salon, Hair Xtreme on Tuesday, May 30th, to donate 10 inches of her hair to the Locks of Love Foundation. This foundation creates hairpieces for children with medical hair loss who would not be able to afford them. With 25 inches of hair, Cassie still had plenty left over! (courtesy photo)

Terry Nagle honored by Edinburg Center

The Edinburg Center's sixth Annual "A Night of Shining Stars" event was held on Wednesday, May 24th at the DoubleTree Guest Suites Hotel in Waltham. A Night of Shining Stars is our annual event that formally recognizes the exceptional accomplishments of consumers, staff and community friends of the agency.

One of this year's Community Award recipients included Terry Nagle of The Salvation Army in Wilmington.

The following is a quote from the event's Program Book in honor of Terry

"Terry Nagle manages The Salvation Army Thrift Store in Wilmington, the source of many of The Edinburg Center's decorative bargain treasures, both at 1040 Waltham Street in Lexington and in our residences.

Terry and her staff are one hard working bunch. They are forever reorganizing and restaging the store. They work long hours and the physical demands are taxing. When she realized that we were purchasing items for our client residences, she commented that group homes "should be beautiful". Whenever an item is unmarked, she gives us more than a fair price.

Terry always greets us with a warm "Hi Honey! How are YOU today?" Terry's staff love and admire her. In recent years, Terry has experienced three major personal losses. One of Terry's staff recently noted that, "She is the strongest woman I have ever met."

Terry always manages to stay cheerful while she maintains her high standards of cleanliness. Terry's warmth and generosity helps us to provide our clients with lovely decor in their homes."

The Edinburg Center provides an array of innovative services that promote and enhance the quality of life to persons with mental illness, emotional disorders, substance use disorders and/or mental retardation. Our mission is distinguished by the fundamental belief that all persons have the potential to learn, the capacity for change, the ability to grow and actively contribute to the community. Based in Lexington with main sites in Waltham and Arlington, The Center is committed to providing services to persons whose complex and challenging needs have typically been barriers to successful community living.

Class of 2006 - Valedictory Address

by RICK FUDGE

It is said that hindsight is twenty/twenty. At many points in our lives we stop and think, "I wish I had done this instead," or "That was a bad idea." We have the benefit of analyzing past decisions with our knowledge from the present. Thinking of where we want to be, what

w e want to be doing, and whom we want to be surrounded by can help decrease the number of moments when we say, "If only I had done this."

Find a passion, hold on to it, and pursue it for as long as you can. Of course, it is far easier to pursue something when you know what it is. It can be difficult to know what your passions are. We're still only teenagers; deciding what our passions are and will be can sound daunting. Fortunately, there is not a deadline for choosing. Interests and opportunities come and go, and people evolve over time. I recently came across a good way of putting it. You do not pursue your passions; they pursue you. Seek out those activities that you cannot stop think-about, the ones in which you lose of track of time while taking part.

I have a request. Pretend that you have a doctor's appointment today. It's just a regular check-up, but midway through the doctor says something you really don't want to hear: Uh-oh. He runs a number of tests, and it turns out that you have twenty-four hours to live. After you have gotten over the shock, reflect on your life. Are you happy with how it has gone? What would you change and how would you change it? Lastly, why did you not live the way you really wanted to? You are being faced with the fact that your life might not have gone how you wanted it to. Now that it is almost over, you realize that you never did travel around the world or become a professional chef or volunteer at the food pantry.

Something held you back and prevented you from pursuing it. Whether it was doubt, fear, circumstance, or something else, you did not chase after the thing that really gets your blood flowing.

Now imagine that your doctor calls you back that night. He tells you that actually have a year to live. A year is a significant amount of time.

With your newfound perspective and extra time, will you pursue your passion? Or will you simply be thankful that you have a few more months and go back to the life you were living? If you choose the second course, consider this: you will feel that same sense of disappointment and loss of opportunity that you felt when you were told that you only had twenty-four hours. So you choose the first option. You might realize that you have other interests, too, that you want to work on now that you have more time. You only have a year left, but you are making sure that looking back will be just as fulfilling as looking forward was exciting. The next day, your doctor calls again and tells you that he misread the test results. You are healthy and expected to live to a very old age. Besides trying to find a new doctor, what else will you do? Now that the pressure of a definite premature death is gone, will you stay with your decision to go after those things that you love? You have decades left to pursue them, so what's the hurry? The lesson to learn from your near-death is that you do not know your future. When you discover a passion, pursue it. If you always do this, you will avoid having your dreams remain only dreams. Pursue your passions, and turn your dreams to reality, and reality to good memories that you can hold onto forever.

Shawsheen Valley Regional Vocational High School Class of 2006 Valedictory Address

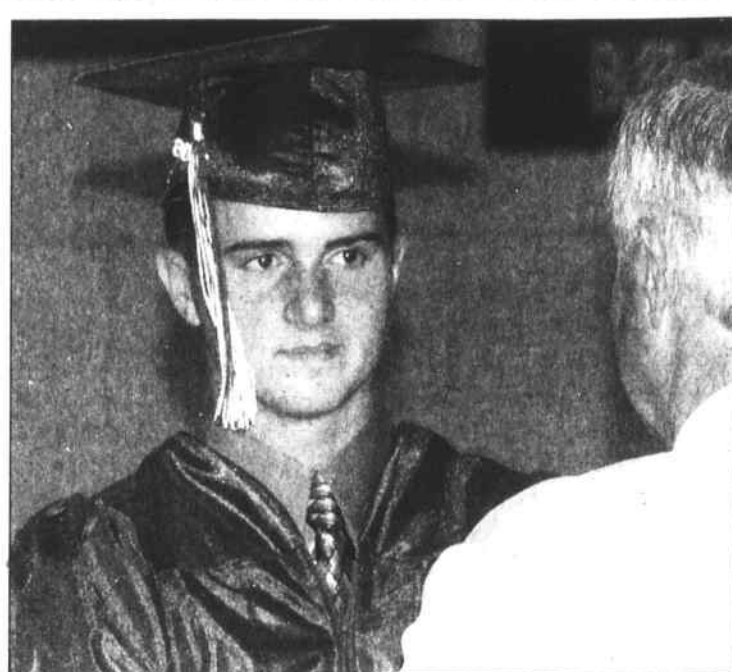

By CARRIE MCCONNELL

Good evening. Class of 2006. I'd like to start off by asking you all to take a moment and think about what your greatest wish is. Perhaps you remember at the beginning of the year, we were asked to write our "greatest wish" as a Senior Superlative. One of the most common responses I saw was to be successful. Whether we wrote this or not, all of us desire to be successful. It is an excellent goal to have. However, it does not come automatically. Shawsheen Tech has taught us that we have to work hard if we want to achieve something. If we want to excel at a sport, or get good grades, we have to put effort into it. In the same way, if we want to be successful, we have to work at it. But what is success? Many of us have been taught that success comes from going to college and getting a degree, or having our own company and making a lot of money. Some people think that money equals success. I prefer the attitude of Bob Dylan, who said, "What's money? A man is successful if he gets up in the morning and goes to bed at night, and in between does what he wants to do." This quote teaches two important lessons: first that success is a measure of our happiness in life, and second that success refers to a journey, not an end result. We are successful if we find something we are passionate about, and are happy doing it.

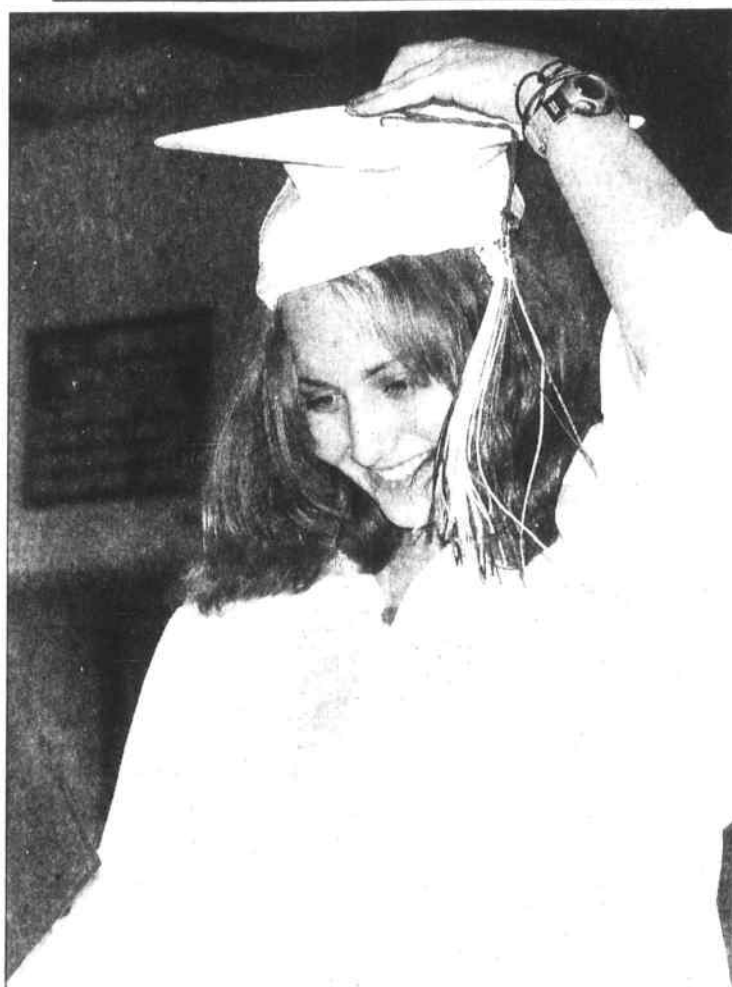

Since all of us will end up working eventually, whether we go to college or not, it is important to find a career that offers enjoyment rather than just a paycheck. As you figure out what kind of work you want to do, the challenge is to find work that gives your life meaning, work that provides enjoyment on a daily basis. If you choose a career for money or prestige but dislike going to work more days than not, it will never be worth it in the long run. Find work you are passionate about. After all, this is why we came to Shawsheen. We came here so we could explore many different careers and choose one that we love. For many of us, the field we ended up in was much different than what we had intended. I know for myself, I came here with my heart set on the Health shop. But after exploring all different options, my feelings changed and I fell in love with Electrical. Working in a field that I love has helped me to be more dedicated to my work, and to put more effort into it. I get enjoyment from doing Electrical work, and I feel a sense of accomplishment when I have finished a job. That is what work should be like, and that to me is success. It is being satisfied along the journey, and in the end looking back at a job well done and being proud of it. Years from now, when we look back on our lives, we should also see ones that made us happy along the way. Then we will have the satisfaction that we found something we were passionate about, and did our best.

Here at Shawsheen, we have done our best, and so far we have been successful. But now we are at the end of our high school career. I would like to thank all of you for being here with me these past four years; it has been a lot of fun. I would especially like to thank the students and teachers in the Electrical shop, who I have so many memories with, and who have helped me find my passion. As we leave now, and step out into society, I wish that all of you be successful, and I wish that all of you will always be happy. Thank you.

Roth on Dean's List at Harding University

SEARCY, Ark. - Stephanie Roth of Wilmington was among the Harding University students included on the school's Dean's List for grades achieved during the spring semester.

Roth is a sophomore majoring in public relations.

The Dean's List is published each semester by Dr. Larry Long, vice president for academic affairs, honoring those who have achieved high scholarship. To be eligible, a student must be carrying 12 or more hours and have an average scholarship level of 3.65 minimum.

Harding had a record enrollment this year of more than 5,900 students from 49 states and 45 foreign countries. It is the largest private university in Arkansas and also has campuses in Australia, Chile, England, France/Switzerland, Greece and Italy.

Sarah Hodge achieves dean's list at Lasell College

NEWTON, MA - Sarah Hodge of Wilmington, MA made Lasell College's Spring 2006 Dean's List. A member of the class of 2008, Hodge is majoring in Fashion and Retail Merchandising.

Lasell College is a four-year, co-educational, professional liberal arts college that prepares graduates for success in the worlds of business, education, and the health sciences.

Dean's list at Fitchburg State

Fitchburg - President Robert V. Antonucci of Fitchburg State College has announced the named of area students included on the Dean's List for the spring semester.

A student is placed on the Dean's List for the semester if an average grade of 3.20 or better is attained, and the student is attending the college full time.

Buck graduates from Bridgton Academy

Bryant Buck, son of Diane and James Buck of Wilmington, graduated recently from Bridgton Academy, the nation's only all-postgraduate college preparatory school for young men, located in North Bridgton, Maine. Buck, a member of the Academy's rugby team, earned Honors during the 1st Semester, and will attend Framingham State College.

Andrew Restuccia named to dean's list at Syracuse

Andrew Restuccia is enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences at Syracuse University and was named to the Deans List for the Spring 2006 semester. To qualify for the Deans List, students must achieve at least a 3.4 grade point average (on a 4.0 scale) during the semester.

The College of Arts and Sciences, a liberal arts college at the heart of a national research university, is both the founding college and the largest college of Syracuse University. The college offers more than 40 majors from 22 academic departments in the traditional disciplines of the humanities, sciences and the social sciences. Students from throughout the University register for its liberal arts core courses, while Arts and Sciences students take advantage of programs in the professional schools and colleges at Syracuse.

Restuccia is a junior majoring in religion and society and newspaper journalism. He lives in Tewksbury.

Emmanuel College names Raval to Dean's List

Boston - Emmanuel College in Boston recently announced recipients of Dean's List awards for the spring 2006 semester. Students earning a grade point average of 3.5 or higher are awarded the distinction of Dean's List.

Forum M. Raval of Wilmington was named to the Dean's List.

Emmanuel College is a Catholic, coeducational, liberal arts and sciences college located in the center of Boston's academic, cultural, medical and scientific communities. The College's mission is to educate students in a dynamic learning community rooted in the liberal arts and sciences and shaped by strong ethical values and a Catholic academic tradition. An Emmanuel education challenges students to become critical thinkers, ethical decision makers, and contributing members of the local community and the global society.

Trio leads Shawsheen contingent to SkillsUSA National Finals

BILLERICA - On June 19, five Shawsheen Valley Technical High School students will travel to Kansas for the Skills USA finals. The week-long festivities include open ceremonies, presentations and competitions, an awards banquet and closing ceremonies.

"It's a lot of fun," said Shawsheen Tech senior Ashley Long, a Tewksbury resident who graduated last week and will be one of Shawsheen's representatives next week.

Long is speaking from experience.

The commercial arts student qualified for the Skills USA national finals last year as well along with teammates Stephen Bennett of Billerica and Christopher Versackas of Tewksbury.

Other Shawsheen Tech students attending the prestigious event this year will be Shauna Leavitt of Tewksbury for Promotional Bulletin Board in Commercial Art and Design and Carrie McConnell of Wilmington in residential wiring. Two others, Scott Hannon of Billerica for Diesel Equipment Technology and Bedford's Nicole Allen in Office Computer Applications, qualified for the national finals but will not be making the trip to Kansas. Allen's event is not offered at nationals while Hannon will be at boot camp for Army reserves during that week.

For Long, Bennett and Versackas, the return to nationals is quite a feat.

"It's an amazing feeling," said Long. "We didn't think we had done well [at the state finals]. We were ecstatic to make it to nationals."

In 2005, the trio's presentation of a campaign on how to deal with bullies earned the Shawsheen Tech students a bronze medal.

This year, the students won the state championship with a community-based project on safety in the household. The group prepared an activity book and a tutorial flash to help young children be aware of common dangers throughout the home including electrical outlets, hot pot handles on the stove and sharp objects in the kitchen. The judges look more at the artwork, Long said.

Long said last year's experiences helped the group prepare for the 2006 contest.

"We kind of knew what to expect," Long said. "Last year we were able to see all of the little mistakes we made."

Long said the group has also enjoyed working together.

"We're all really close and we have a lot of fun," said Long. "Chris and Steve are both very unique. Steve is more of the one that keeps us laughing while Chris is the one that says 'Hey, we've got to get this thing done.'"

All seven students that qualified for nationals were gold-medal winners at the Skills USA state competition. In all, 27 Shawsheen Tech students earned medals at the state finals.

Reading's Burbank YMCA Summer Schedule

READING, MA With Summer fast approaching, are you ready? The Burbank YMCA has an awesome array of fitness and swim programs set to begin June 26. Drop-off registration for the Summer Session began on June 11.

The Reading YMCA Center is offering over 120 swim lessons in the summer. Classes are offered 10 weeks a week with both morning and afternoon available. In addition, there are classes offered that meet two times a week for four weeks. These classes give swimmers the opportunity to increase their learning experience. "The classes are great for parents that want to get their children ready for a summer of swimming. The classes give children the opportunity to strengthen their strokes and see a marked improvement in their abilities," said Program Director, Dave Witkus. Adult swim lessons are available for those adults who need to learn basic strokes or for those who need to strengthen their swimming ability.

The Aquatic Department will also be offering the ever-popular aqua aerobics and aqua yoga to name a few.

The YMCA is proud to bring back the "Backyard Pool Program". Swim lesson taught in your pool, in your yard. They make house calls.

New for your 9-15 year old is Super Sports Clinics. These clinics are designed to give your athlete the rules, skills and tactics for their sport of choice. The clinics run on Monday through Thursday, in one-week sessions, from 8:00-11:00. (Except Fourth of July week M, W, TH & F) There are nine clinics being offered and the sports offered are football, soccer, baseball and basketball. Call Tony Ferraro at 781-944-9622 x230 for more information.

The summer program registration drop-off starts June 5. Member registration begins June 12; program member registration starts June 19. For more information or to receive a brochure, please call 781-944-9622.

Marie G. lanetta-DiPietro

Worked for New England Telephone

Marie Grace lanetta-DiPietro, a devoted family person passed away surrounded by her 5 sons and their families on Saturday night, June 10, 2006. Marie was born and raised in East Boston. She was the daughter of the late Americo "Mike" and Bridget DiPietro. Prior to her children, she had worked for New England Telephone. She then chose to be a homemaker raising her five sons and making a home filled with love and laughter. In her later years she had worked as a receptionist for the Boston Company in Medford.

Marie had a wide variety of interests. Her hobbies included art, painting, and photography. She enjoyed taking and sharing her treasured photos of family and friends. She enjoyed classic movies, gardening, games on any kind, cooking, baking, dancing, and exercising. She was always happiest when she was surrounded by her sons, The lanetta Boys. She will be sadly missed by her sons, grandchildren, sisters, and many friends.

Marie is the loving mother of the lanetta boys: Michael of Keene, NH, Rick of Keene, NH, Steven of Snohomish, WA, Gerald of Tewksbury, and David of NC. Loving grandmother of 9 grandsons: Matthew, Gerald, Tony, Kevin, Nicholas, Vinnie, Travis, Daniel & Joseph lanetta and one granddaughter, Amy lanetta. Mother-in-law of four wonderful daughter-in-laws: Marianne, Lindajean, Erica and Debbie lanetta. Sister of Annette Flaherty of Saugus, Geri Sullivan of Lynn, and Camille DiPietro of Lakeville. Special aunt of Jerrilyn Gosselin. A Mass of Christian Burial was held in St. Williams Church, 135 Main St., Tewksbury on Wednesday, June 14, at 10 a.m. Interment in Puritan Lawn Cemetery, Peabody.

Memorials in Marie's name may be made to VNA of Middlesex East & Visiting Nurse Hospice, 607 North Ave., Suite 17, Wakefield, MA 01880.

Remembering Larz - Things That Didn't Happen In Wilmington

by PETER A. NEILSON

Everyone remembers Larz - Larz the Captain, Larz the Editor, Larz the Publisher, Larz the Historian, and Larz the Amateur Mycologist.

Larz was my father, and although he never liked to put stories about himself in the paper, I feel it's time to do exactly that. It's my hope that articles with information from the Neilson family and from Larz's many friends will become an ongoing biography of Captain Neilson, the man who came home from running World War Two troopships to start a newspaper.

Tuesday the 27th of June marks his 95th birthday. He was already 44 years old when he made the Town Crier his second career. He knew how to run a ship, and during his time as editor of Stan Bock's Wilmington Crusader he was itching to run his own paper. Larz was well positioned to do so. He knew nearly everyone in town, and in 1955 he grew a huge moustache to attract the attention of those few who had not yet noticed him. He quit the Crusader, and the Town Crier appeared that November.

Larz set out to make a good newspaper, and he needed a motto to focus himself, his staff and the readers on his goal. The New York Times already was using, "All the news that's fit to print," as their motto. But the Times didn't cover Wilmington. Neither did the Boston Globe or the Lowell Sun, although the Sun actually tried, having at one time hired Larz as a stringer. He knew the right motto for his new paper: "If it didn't happen in Wilmington, it didn't happen."

Well, some things in Larz's life happened elsewhere.

Larz was a loyal member of Rotary, and every Wednesday at noon he would attend the Rotary meeting, where he would eat lunch. Because he was allergic to chicken the Rotary Club would always have something for him that was not chicken. Because Wednesday was (and still is) "paper day," everything at the Town Crier office was in high orbit, and Larz often could not make the meeting. Instead he would attend a make-up meeting in Tewksbury the following day, Thursday.

Larz, the publisher in front of the old depot in 1956

Somehow, Tewksbury Rotary would always serve chicken, which he would refuse. "It is against my religion," he would say, "to eat chicken on Thursdays." I believe that attending Rotary in Tewksbury was what led him to start a Tewksbury edition of the paper.

Larz was allergic to eggs, too, and this led to an incident that became one of his famous "sea stories." It seems that he was at a restaurant in San Francisco, and wanted to order fried peppers. Larz often cooked fried peppers at home, with or without mushrooms and onions. It's a man's kind of dish-easy to cook and mildly offensive to the rest of the family. The waiter at the restaurant said, "We don't have fried peppers." "But you have a fried pepper omelette," Larz retorted. "Bring me a fried pepper omelette, but leave out the eggs."

Larz regarded the New York Times and the Christian Science Monitor as two excellent standards of journalism, and he read both of them frequently. He was especially a fan of the crossword puzzle in the Sunday Times, which he did in ink. His rule for solving the puzzle was to enter the vertical words only, and use the horizontal clues as merely a cross-check. Using this method, he never entered a word unless he had proven to himself that it was correct by working its horizontal.

This is the first of a series of occasional bits about Larz. Everyone has a Larz story, and I'd like to hear yours. Please list them, send them to me at the Town Crier, and I'll be happy to print a portion of them.

Three athletes to represent Wilmington at Annual Summer Games

June 16th-18th athletes will spend the weekend competing in elite competitions at Harvard University

WILMINGTON - On Friday June 16th, 2006 three athletes from Wilmington along with 2,500 fellow athletes and coaches from all over the Commonwealth will converge for the Opening Ceremony at Boston University's Walter Brown Arena to kick off Special Olympics Massachusetts (SOMA) annual Summer Games. The weekend of competition begins with the traditional Lighting of the Cauldron, a tribute to SOMA's 45th anniversary and entertainment by Maximum Velocity Stunt Team.

They have been training diligently for many months and have qualified via assessment rounds in their local sections in order to compete at this elite state level. The annual SOMA Summer Games is an opportunity for athletes to medal, and a chance for athletes to experience SOMA's Olympic Town. Olympic Town is comprised of numerous activities, entertainment and live music. Athletes can also participate in Healthy Athletes Initiatives (HAI) at Olympic Town, which includes Healthy Hearing, Special Smiles, Opening Eyes, FunFitness, FitFeet, and Health Promotion.

"SOMA is proud of the athletes who train and compete with the organization and their achievements," Robert Johnson, SOMA President and CEO. "Through successful experiences in sports, SOMA athletes gain confidence, pride, and self-esteem, which help them in their homes, classrooms, jobs, and communities. With the help of athletes and volunteers, Special Olympics Massachusetts is working to change public perceptions about individuals with intellectual disabilities and to Change the World...Again."

Competitions take place Saturday, June 17th between 8 a.m.-3 p.m. and Sunday June 18th, between 8:00 a.m. - 2:00 p.m. Games commence Sunday afternoon with a final Awards Ceremony at each venue at the conclusion of competition. 2,500 athletes from Massachusetts will compete in the following sports at the venues listed below:

- * Aquatics: Blodgett Pool
- * Gymnastics: Palmer Dixon
- * Power Lifting: Murr Center Squash Courts
- * Roller-Skating: Bright Hockey Arena
- * Sailing: MIT Sailing Pavilion
- * Tennis: Beren Tennis Center
- * Track and Field: McCurdy Outdoor Track and Field
- * Volleyball: Gordon Indoor Track

These athletes are part of the 9,300 total athletes who compete for SOMA. These esteemed athletes have competed in assessment rounds in order to qualify for this elite competition. They will join over 2,500 athletes and coaches at the 2006 Summer Games.

The 2006 Summer Games are made possible by the generous support of these following sponsors: Raytheon, Blue Cross Blue Shield of Massachusetts, TD Banknorth, Polar Beverages, SBLI Life Insurance, SAP and Aerotek Staffing Agency.

ABOUT SPECIAL OLYMPICS

Special Olympics is an international organization that changes lives by promoting understanding, acceptance and inclusion between people with and without intellectual disabilities. Through year-round sports training and athletic competition and other related programming for more than 14 million children and adults with intellectual disabilities in over 150 countries to include 9,300 Massachusetts athletes, Special Olympics has created a model community that celebrates people's diverse gifts. Founded in 1968 by Eunice Kennedy Shriver, Special Olympics provides people with intellectual disabilities continuing opportunities to realize their potential, develop physical fitness, demonstrate courage and experience joy and friendship. There is no cost to participate in Special Olympics. Visit Special Olympics online at www.specialolympicsma.org <<http://www.specialolympicsma.org>>.

Summer Reading Club

Summer Reading Club Sign Up Begins in the Children's Room

It is that time of year again to sign up for the Summer Reading Club at the Tewksbury Public Library! This year's theme of "What's buzzin' at your library?" is sponsored by the Massachusetts Board of Library Commissioners, the Regional Library Systems, the Friends of the Tewksbury Public Library and area businesses.

Children from age 3 up to entering grade 6 can come to the Children's desk to sign up any time this summer from now until August 10 for the Summer Reading Club. For preschoolers through children entering grade 3, prizes will be given out when certain numbers of books have been read, such as 5 books, 10 books and so on. Readers will also get insect stickers to place on our Reading Web to fill it up for our giant reading spider. Children who read 50 or more books will be given special insect shapes to hang up to recognize their achievements. For children entering grades 4 through 6, a raffle ticket will be given out for every book read. We'll have weekly drawings to win special prize packages beginning the week of June 26. All members of the Summer Reading Club are invited to our Summer Reading Club Party on August 11. This year's theme will feature a carnival, with face painting, games, sno-cones and more! All members will also receive a certificate at the end of this summer's program.

The public library and the public schools work together to promote summer reading every year. Whether your child uses a reading log from school or one from the library, all books read count towards the Summer Reading Club and towards the reading requirement from the schools. The Children's desk keeps a copy of the summer reading lists for each grade level and has displays all summer long of books and authors from the lists. In Tewksbury, the summer reading lists for kindergarten through grade 8 are just lists of suggested authors. Any book your child is interested in reading can be used for summer reading. So no matter what the interest is, we probably have a book your child would like to read at the library! From non-fiction titles about baseball, snakes, horses and knitting to popular series fiction like Magic Tree House, Star Wars, and American Girls to great authors like Roald Dahl, Sharon Creech, Matt Christopher and Jean Craighead George, we've got something they'll like.

Every summer at the library, we run many programs for children to celebrate the summer and our Summer Reading Club. There will be ample amounts of crafts, story times and book discussion groups for children ages 2 through 12. Many special events like picnics, plays, storytellers, magic shows, animal shows, parties and more are coming in June, July and August in the Children's Room. Stop by to pick up our summer calendar or check out our Calendar of Events on the web at www.tewksburypl.org.

For more information about the Summer Reading Club or any of our programs and events, call Noelle and Karen in the Children's Room at 978.640.4490 x204 or check us out on the web at www.tewksburypl.org.

Attention: Class of '01

To the members of the class of 2001. In accordance with the Student Record Regulations of 1976, this is to notify you that the immunization records of the members of the Class of 2001 will be destroyed on July 1, 2006. If you wish to receive these records, please contact the school nurse at Wilmington High School 978-694-6067.

Walter Ford Carter, the author of No Greater Sacrifice, No Greater Love: A Son's Journey to Normandy, will be the guest speaker at the public library Thursday, June 29 at 1 p.m. Carter tells the story of his father, a physician who volunteered for the Army in World War II and who was killed while trying to rescue a wounded soldier during the Normandy campaign following the D-Day landings at Omaha Beach. It is also the story of the author's discovery of his father, more than 50 years after his death, through wartime letters found in his mother's attic following her death in 1995.

Acting Up! Summer Reading Program Begins June 15th

Children of all ages are invited to read for the fun of it this summer! Free reading kits are available for everyone who registers. Take advantage of the fun programs scheduled at the library this summer.

Acting Up! Talent Show

Get your act together, for the Acting Up! Talent Show to be held at the library on Thursday, July 27th at 7 p.m. Singers, dancers, jugglers, musicians, actors, and talented individuals ages six through adult are

Tewksbury Senior Topics

A note of thanks is extended to all those who worked at the Senior Center Yard Sale this past Saturday and to those who braved the rainy and damp day. The winner of the 50/50 drawing was Betty Burns.

The Council on Aging will hold its regular monthly meeting June 15th, at the Senior Center beginning at 3:30 p.m. All are welcome to attend.

This Saturday, June 17th, is recycle day at the DPW. The hours that one may bring down a TV or computer are 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. The fee is $10 per item and checks should be made out to the Town of Tewksbury.

There are several openings on the Hampton Beach trip of next Monday, June 19th. The cost of this trip is $5 with one on his/her own to shop, have lunch and visit the beach. A special feature on this trip will be the viewing of the Hampton Beach Annual Sand Sculpture display. If interested, one must sign-up by tomorrow at noon. The bus will depart from the Livingston Street Playground Parking lot. One should check his/her ticket for the departure time.

There are also openings left for the AARP "Mature Driving Course" which will take place at the Tewksbury Senior Center (White House) 460 East Street on two consecutive Tuesday mornings from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., June 20 and June 27. Senior Citizens from surrounding towns are welcome to register for this course which will be instructed by AARP Volunteer Driving Instructor, Nancy M. Doherty. The course will focus on the aging process (something we are all doing!) and driving safety as well as cover topics such as ROAD RAGE. The cost is $10 per student and includes a workbook. There is no testing. It should be noted that some insurance companies offer a discount for those who have completed this AARP course.

Dr. Smith's Podiatry Clinic will be held at the Senior Center next Tuesday, June 20th. To find out if there are any more opening for the clinic, one may drop by the Senior Center or call 978-640-4482.

The Silver Tones Band will hold its third dance social at the Tewksbury Country Club on Wednesday, June 21st. Admission is $5 per person and tickets are available at the door. The Country Club doors open at 6:00 p.m.; and, the band begins playing at 7:00 p.m.

The attire for the evening is casual. Why not give it a try? The music is great!!

A Reverse Mortgage seminar will be held at the Senior Center (White House) 460 East Street on Friday, June 23rd, at 1:00 p.m. One is asked to call the Senior Center at 978-640-4480 to register for this seminar.

The popular Carnation Belles two year calendars (June 2006 to June 2008) are now available at the Senior Center Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. The calendars, which have been quite a hit, feature 35 Senior Citizen models who have donated their time and talents to raise funds for the Senior Center Expansion Project. As previously noted, there will be a Calendar Signing event held at The Isle at Emerald Court Assisted Living Facility on Sunday, June 25th, from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. The Isle at Emerald Court is located off Washington Street at 2000 Emerald Court. Come meet the Calendar Models, have your calendar signed, enjoy some refreshments, take a guided tour of the newly opened facility and maybe even win a door prize!

FEMA (Federal Emergency Management Agency) representatives stopped by the Senior Center this past week to inform people that they may be eligible to apply for disaster assistance. Homeowners, renters and business owners in Middlesex County affected by flooding may apply for assistance by calling 1-800-621-3362 or online at <http://www.fema.gov> FEMA representatives encourages people to call to see if they are eligible; and, noted that those who suffered the greatest loss would not be affected by ones request.

The following Red Hat trips and events are scheduled: (1) The Newport, R.I. Flower Show on Saturday, June 24th. This trip includes motorcoach transportation and lunch at the Atlantic Beach Club. The trip cost is $69 and there are still a few opening. Balances are now due. (2) The Hu Ke Lau Restaurant in Chicopee on July 23rd. The trip cost is $53 and includes motorcoach transportation, lunch and a show. Additional trips are in the making and will be noted once details have been confirmed.

Have a pleasant week and God Bless America and a Happy Father's Day to all

Raytheon assists Lazarus House

IDS Employees of Eastern Ma. Aid Local Shelter after Devastating Floods

IDS Employees of Eastern Ma. Aid Local Shelter after Devastating Floods

It didn't take very long for the employees of Raytheon's Integrated Defense Systems (IDS) located Tewksbury in the Merrimack Valley area of Eastern Massachusetts to realize that the Lazarus House in Lawrence, Mass., was in a desperate situation as a result of all the rain and subsequent flooding that took place in late May.

Within a four-day period, employees located at several IDS locations including IDS headquarters in Tewksbury, the Integrated Air Defense Center (IADC) and RF Components Center in Andover, the Missile Defense Center in Woburn, the Surveillance and Sensors Center in Sudbury, and the newly opened Cross Business Integration Center in Billerica, dug into their pockets or reached into their cupboards to collect close to $3,500 in cash and more than 2,500 pounds of non-perishable items to help the Lazarus House replace some of the 20,000 pounds of food lost at its Hampshire Street location during the floods.

During a check presentation ceremony at the IADC June 6, Lisa Merrill-Burzak, development director at the Lazarus House, thanked all the volunteers have always been there for us. Whether it is during the holiday season when you adopt families and bring them the food and gifts they would not otherwise receive, on our feet and keep our doors open to help those less fortunate," she said. "We can always count on you. Thank you so very much."

Peter Teague, IDS Communications, who spoke at the ceremony, said, "All of this proves once again that the employees of IDS recognize the role we each play as community stewards, we appreciate what we have, and we respond to others in time of need. A big thanks to all those employees that participated and to all those who organized this effort in 'Ramp Speed.'"

They include Linda Shaw, Cindy Yates and Mike Nason from IDS Headquarters; Brad Duffin, Dave Bales, Peter Teague and Gayle Tabbi from the Integrated Air Defense Center; Virginia Simms-George, Carl Carucci and "Kit" Shine from the RF Components Center; Pat Goddard, Joyce Melikian and Linda Herndon from the Missile Defense Center; Tony Marinelli, Anne Kreidler and Ann Marie Dawes from the Surveillance and Sensors Center; and Mary Daigneault and Alexis Fondl from the Cross Business Integration Center.

Raytheon IDS Employees who organized the flood relief effort at the Lazarus House in Lawrence, Mass., pose with the check for $3,334. They are (L-R) Bob Garnum, Peter Teague, Mary Daigneault, Lisa Merrill-Burzak (Lazarus House), and Kit Shine. IDS employees in Eastern Massachusetts also donated more than 2,500 pounds of food and non perishable items to the local shelter.

Summer Program Registration Underway!

Wilmington Recreation summer events

Tiny Tots and Kids Club are just around the corner!

Almost every household in Wilmington has had a member of the family take part in the Recreation Department's Tiny Tots & Kids Club summer program. This social/recreational program for children ages four through seven includes arts & crafts, games, special events, daily themes, a guest enrichment program and a special field trip. Each child will receive a program t-shirt and a class photo. All of this is included in the cost of $130.00 per child. There are two sessions available: Monday, June 26 - Friday, July 14 (No class July 3 & 4) or Monday, July 17 - Thursday, August 3, 9:00 - 12:00 noon at the Boutwell School. A copy of the child's birth certificate is needed for registration. Children are divided into age-appropriate classrooms. Don't miss out - once you are eight this great program is behind you!

Create Fun Fur Flip Flops

You love your flip flops - now learn to crochet as you decorate them with fabulous "fun fur" yarn. This program for grades 3 - 5 will be held on Friday, June 23 from 7 - 8:30 p.m. in Town Hall. Cost is $9. A supply list will be provided at registration.

At Home Alone

At Home Alone is a class for children entering grades 4 & 5 that will prepare them to stay home alone. In this two-hour class the instructor will discuss handling phone calls, a knock at the door and basic home safety. Cost is $18 for this 2-hour class on Wednesday, June 21 from 9 - 11 a.m. in Town Hall.

Adult/Child CPR & First Aid Attention child-care providers: consider the following classes to keep your certification current.

Adult/Child CPR - Thursday, June 22, 6 - 10 p.m.; Includes an introduction to the EMS, choking and cardiac emergencies.

Adult/Child First Aid - Monday, June 26, 6 - 10 p.m.; Training for sudden illness, injury, disease transmission, etc. Cost for each class is $35.

Chamber of Commerce

Golf Tournament postponed

Due to the abundant rain of the last few week the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce Golf tournament has been postponed until June 30th.

This give four more golfers the opportunity to sign up and play at the Thompson Country club in North Reading. The priate club is only accessible through tournaments like this or as a guest of a member or by joining.

Call the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce at 978-657-7211 or Art Hayden at Sir Speedy at 978-657-3800 for more information

Textron Systems Tactical Unattended Ground Sensor System Proves Successful in JEFX 2006 Demonstration

WILMINGTON - Textron Systems Corporation, a Textron Inc. (NYSE:TXT) company, announced today that its Tactical Unattended Ground Sensor (T-UGS) System, part of the U.S. Army's Future Combat System, was successfully demonstrated at the Joint Expeditionary Force Experiment 2006 (JEFX '06) hosted by the U.S. Air Force at Nellis Air Force Base, Nevada. JEFX '06 is the 6th in a series of Chief of Staff of the Air Force-directed (CSAF), large-scale field experiments designed to validate potential capabilities of new and advancing technologies, as well as the inter-operability of U.S. military assets. The networked force initiatives pursued at JEFX '06 are a continuation of Network Centric Operations exercises first conducted in 2004.

The unattended T-UGS system used in the JEFX exercises demonstrated for the first time the interoperability of multi-service technology by providing shared situational awareness that linked FCS ground-based control operations with fly-by strike aircraft. Seismic and acoustic sensors were able to detect, track, and report target information via an intelligence network in near real time. The synchronization and fusion of the data transmitted by the T-UGS sensors to the command and control center revealed and identified "red" or enemy threats that were fused automatically with "blue" or friendly force situational information creating a common operating picture for the commander.

"Textron Systems is very committed to fielding technology that will make a difference in today's battlefield, and impact future force capability, as well," said Ellen Lord, vice president of Intelligent Battlefield Systems, Textron Systems. "Our Unattended Ground Sensor Systems are just one example of how the U.S. Army and FCS team have been able to anticipate what our Warfighters' needs are now and in the future."

According to Don Depree, director, C4ISR systems, Boeing, "Employing a network-centric battlefield creates a decisive advantage for our Warfighters by allowing them to accomplish objectives quicker and with fewer personnel. Textron Systems' T-UGS technology gives them a strong basis upon which to make critical decisions and help ensure troop safety."

The FCS UGS program consists of two subgroups of sensing systems: tactical and urban. Both systems have multiple sensing nodes that are wirelessly networked to pass information to Warfighters. T-UGS are deployable by hand in the first spinout of FCS technologies to the Army in 2008 and will be remotely deployable from aircraft, UAVs and helicopters in the third spinout which will be fielded in 2012. Tactical UGS (T-UGS) can identify a wide range of threats - from tanks, to heavy-wheeled vehicles, to small pick-up trucks, to rotary- and fixed-wing aircraft and even people. Tactical UGS nodes incorporate multiple sensing modalities that allow targets to be detected, tracked, and identified - day or night.

In October 2003, Textron Systems was selected by the Future Combat System lead systems integrators, Boeing and SAIC, as one of the major FCS industry partners and the sole UGS provider. The company has since been awarded a $100M contract to develop UGS systems for the U.S. Army's groundbreaking FCS program. Textron Systems' UGS have since been identified as among the first four of 18 network-supported and integrated ground and air systems ready to be fielded in 2009. Textron Systems is recognized as a leader in the technology of Unattended Ground Sensors, supplying International military forces with their Terrain Commander* family of sensors and the Target Recognition Sensor-Seismic and Acoustic (TRSSA) for the U.S. Marine Corps.

About Textron Systems

video games, and magazine articles/newspapers that give importance to conflict, bullying and violence. This has become commonplace and accepted as part of our society and, for some students, it is a way of life. Through the Pinwheels for Peace project, the students are making a public visual statement about their feelings about peace, tolerance, cooperation, harmony, unity, respect and, in some way, maybe, they will awaken the public and let them know what the next generation is thinking.

This is not political. Peace doesn't necessarily have to be associated with the conflict of war, it can be related to violence/intolerance in our daily lives, to peace of mind. To each of us, peace can take on a different meaning, but, in the end, it all comes down to a simple definition: a state of calm and serenity, with no anxiety, the absence of violence, freedom from conflict or disagreement among people or groups of people.

This was a grant that was directed by art teachers Karen Larrabee and Neal Roberts. The Wilmington School-Business partnership funded the grant money for this project. All students - over 900 - in grades 6, 7, and 8 participated.

Atlanta, GA based Home Depot spokesman Yancy Casey. The customers turned over the vanity and the drugs to Billerica Police on Friday, June 9.

"We are working very closely with police and all involved on the investigation," said Casey.

The investigation, coordinated by Sgt. Frost of the Billerica Police Department who was on duty when the homeowners called in, also includes Tewksbury Police, and Drug Enforcement Agency officers.

Because the product box was not tampered with, the investigation will look at Home Depot's supply chain to determine where that box originated and the stops it took along the way to Tewksbury's sales floor. The DEA will "try to trace where it [the box] came from and how it got to Home Depot," explained Sgt. Mirasolo.

Glacier Bay is a proprietary brand of The Home Depot. The company operates nearly 2000 stores throughout North America and employs over 325,000.

Tewksbury Home Depot management referred comment to Mr. Casey. Tewksbury Police offered no public comment at this time, except to relay a message that "the investigation is still ongoing."

regarding the closing of the landfill. MEA was hired by the landfill owners to conduct the closure. As a DEP employee, Rostkowski assessed the landfill and recommended enforcement/investigative actions. Rostkowski left DEP in February 2001 and worked for MEA until April 2004. While working for MEA, Rostkowski monitored MEA employees and equipment at the landfill and made recommendations regarding storm water control measures.

Section 5(a) of the conflict law prohibits a public employee from acting as agent or attorney for or receiving compensation from a third party in connection with any particular matter in which the state is a party or has a direct and substantial interest and in which he participated as a state employee.

"While the so-called revolving door restrictions of the conflict of interest law don't prevent public officials bringing their skills and experience with them into the private sector, they do prohibit public officials from profiting from their participation in specific projects and decisions," said Executive Director Peter Sturges. "The Commission closely scrutinizes allegations of such profiteering and will impose significant penalties when a former state employee violates the law, thereby undercutting the public's rightful confidence in the government decision-making process."

said Lodge President Aldo Cairra, Jr. "When the Town Manager asked the Lodge if it were something we'd like to take on, we were happy to do so."

Town engineer Sue Carlson met with student representatives from each class to find out what they would like to see included in the construction. Fourth and Fifth graders highlighted a climbing wall and a "really high slide" as priorities. And that's just what they got!

In addition, they got one of the safest playgrounds possible. Nurse Leader Doreen Crowe reported at the last bi-monthly "Tools for Schools" safety meeting that the new North Intermediate playground scored an impressive 20 out of 23 on the National Programs for Playground Safety's SAFE assessment. This "safety report card" evaluates a playground based upon the following criteria: Supervision, Age-appropriate design, Fall surfacing and Equipment maintenance.

North Intermediate School Principal Michele Cairra Norton describes the score as excellent.

"We're very pleased with the playground," Norton said. "The kids really enjoy it."

The playground safety assessment far surpasses the state average. According to the National Programs for Playground Safety website, Massachusetts scored an overall C+ for playground safety in 2004.

This donation, a lasting tribute to the deceased members of the Wilmington Sons of Italy, is one of many projects in which the lodge has been involved. The Lodge has traditionally helped fund community needs that, while considered important, may not survive budget cuts.

Past contributions include a police cruiser for the D.A.R.E. Program, a handicapped-accessible van for the Elder Services Department, two thermal imaging cameras for the Fire Department, stadium jackets for members of the high school marching band, an electronic scoreboard for the high school football field, and an indoor batting cage for the high school baseball and softball teams. Both the Wilmington Board of Selectmen and School Committee have lauded the Sons of Italy for their community involvement and generosity.

In order to raise the funds for these community-service projects, the Lodge holds different events. For more information about these events or the Sons of Italy, you can contact the Lodge via email at lodge2183@osiama.org or by phone at 978-657-8572. the property.

A building will be constructed on the north side of the property (closest to Bill Dube Hyundai) to house CVS and two smaller buildings, one to be located between CVS and the main building and the other to be located on the south side of the property, will be constructed with the intention of housing banks.

The main building, according to preliminary sketches, will feature Market Basket on the south end of the building - a near mirror image to its current location on the north end. Those same preliminary sketches of the proposed main building show TJ Maxx in Market Basket's current location.

The finished product will result in an overall increase of between 6,000 and 7,000 square feet of retail space.

The parking lot configuration will change substantially and will include a significant increase in landscaping, including a raised berm, similar to the berm across the street in front of Carmart Subaru.

Wilmington's Planning Board will get its first look at the supermarket giant's proposed plans during its June 20th meeting. The plans have not yet gone through the town's Community Development Team Review process yet, so Director of Planning & Conservation Carole Hamilton will recommend that June 20th meeting be used simply as an opportunity for the Planning Board, and the public, to digest the information presented by DeMoulas Supermarkets, Inc.

Wilmington Plaza is not the only property in that immediate area of Route 38 preparing for construction. Two sizeable properties directly across the street have big plans.

The Carmart Subaru property is being sub-divided to make way for a new retail plaza, which will include a restaurant. Though the parties are still in negotiations, the restaurant chain "Ruby Tuesday" has been mentioned as a likely tenant. The architecture of the building will be similar to the plaza recently built next to the Home Depot in Reading.

Additionally, a proposal for a Walgreens Pharmacy, to be located at 277 Main Street, between Simard's Super Roast Beef and the Hess gas station, has been going through site plan review. According to the site plan, the vacant Sunline building will be torn down to make way for a new Walgreens. The parking will be reconfigured and will include a portion of Simard's current lot through an easement agreement.

All three property-owners are working collaboratively to establish a cohesive plan for the entire area.

The traffic lights located at the center of Wilmington Plaza will likely be eliminated. Preliminary plans show two sets of lights at each end of the Plaza, leaving the middle driveway for right-turns only. The new light configuration would service all three properties appropriately.

Interchange alternatives

other two municipalities with land directly affected by an interchange, have also publicly endorsed design alternatives for the interchange. Andover has endorsed numbers 3, 4, and 9. Tewksbury has offered its endorsement to number 9 only.

"All three communities are in sync on Alternative 9, but every community has included various alternatives that would be suitable to their own particular needs," Wilmington Town Manager Michael Cairra said.

Selectman Suzanne Sullivan was the lone voice against Alternatives 7 and 9.

"I know I'll be the lone vote on this Board, maybe I'll be the lone vote in all three towns, but I do not support 7 and 9," Sullivan said. "I can live with 4 and I certainly have less of a problem with 3, but 7 and 9, I could never endorse."

Sullivan's major point of contention with design Alternative 9 was the impact it would pose to the surrounding wetlands. She argued that Alternative 9 presented the highest impact to wetlands of all the proposed designs.

According to Hamilton, however, Sullivan was not taking into consideration all of the factors.

"I understand what you're reading, but you've omitted the potential vernal pools and the floodplain calculations, which could bring several of these alternatives much higher," Hamilton said.

Considering the information on potential vernal pools, and floodplain calculations, Hamilton asserted that Alternatives 1, 3, 6, and 8 would all have more impact on the wetlands.

"The wetland impacts with number 9 are unacceptable," Sullivan said. "I just have a hard time endorsing any project that will fill 4.3 acres of wetlands without any real numbers of what will be replaced. A lot of times with these infrastructure projects, the full amount of wetlands are not replaced if it is not feasible."

The Board voted 4 to 1, with Sullivan as the lone dissenter, to endorse design Alternatives 4, 7, and 9.

In a letter sent to the Merrimack Valley Planning Commission (MVPC) on Tuesday, the town outlined its endorsement.

"The Wilmington Board of Selectmen recognizes the importance of maximizing the economic potential of the area," the letter states. "A new interchange in this area, particularly Alternatives 4, 7, and 9, will provide economic development opportunities, enhance possibilities for improved public transportation along the Haverhill MBTA line and through the local TMO and maximize smart growth options for all three communities."

The letter rejected alternatives 6 and 8 on the basis of excessive impact to wetlands, and further objected to Alternatives 2 and 3, which fail to provide access to developable land on each side of the highway.

"The Wilmington Board of Selectmen anticipates working closely with representatives of the Towns of Andover and Tewksbury with assistance from the three regional planning agencies, and other state and federal agencies in crafting an interchange alternative that accommodates the needs of each community," the letter concludes.

Last week, the Tewksbury Board of Selectmen rejected consideration of any of the proposed alternatives that would provide direct access from the highway onto South Street in Tewksbury.

In a letter sent to the MVPC, the Town of Tewksbury stated, "South Street is not, nor can it be improved to be, an arterial roadway. South Street is a narrow, winding, exclusively residential street for its entire length."

Tewksbury also opposes any alternative that would encroach upon the residential development of Jennie's Way, or any that would not provide access to the property that is currently targeted by Mills Corporation for a 750,000 square foot mall.

Alternative 9, a "modified loop," with all ramps at ground level maintains the 600' buffer zone between the ramp and Jennie's Way, offers no access to South Street, and provides space for development of the Mills Mall.

During last week's meeting of the Tewksbury Board of Selectmen, Selectman John Mackey railed against a perceived lack of cooperation from Andover selectmen while praising the efforts of Andover's planning board, which is seeking an approach meeting the needs of all three affected communities. Going forward, should alternative 9 not advance and a reasonable alternative to 9 not come into play Mackey "favors the status quo," or no new interchange.

Heather Scott has been terrific, too."

Right now, an operation is not possible for Kaycee. Doctors need to reduce the size of her tumor before they can remove it. Little Kaycee has undergone two rounds of chemotherapy, the treatment of choice to shrink the tumor.

"She is very resilient; stronger than any adult that I've ever met," says Kerri. "She'll throw up all over the place and then look at me and smile. She bounces back so quickly it amazes me. The emotional burden is on us. She won't remember this time once she gets older. I don't want her to remember."

In addition to the cancer-fighting medicine, Kaycee also has prescriptions to deal with her nausea, her anxiety and high blood pressure. Her medications are costly and her parents' healthcare plan doesn't cover the full amount.

"When Kaycee was diagnosed, I left my job," says Kerri a substance abuse counselor with DUIL, an alternative-to-jail program for drink and drive offenders. "I wanted to be with her all of the time. My husband works for the Commuter Rail and he has a second job at Home Depot."

"Kerri has been amazing. She's incredible. She's my hero," says Laura Renn.

Laura's pretty special too. Laura and Kerri grew up together in Tewksbury. As childhood friends sometimes do, they'd lost touch. They'd recently resumed their friendship before Kaycee got sick. When the costs started piling up, Laura immediately wanted to do something to help. She immediately organized a benefit event.

The benefit event will be held at the Billerica Elks Lodge on Webb Brook Road, on Friday, June 23, from 7:00 p.m. to 12 midnight. The ticket price of $10 includes food, music by DJ M.C. Renn (Laura's husband, Chris) and dancing. There will be raffle items including Red Sox tickets and a car. The money raised by the event will go to The Kaycee Marie MacDonald Fund, which has been set up through the Lowell 5¢ Savings Bank.

"Laura doesn't think that Mike should have to work two jobs with the baby so sick," Kerri says. "The benefit, she's organized the whole thing, and she gets embarrassed when we try to thank her. The money raised will help with the medical and travel costs. We know Kaycee has a long road ahead of her, but we know she will pull through."

Transrail proposal

ing such an operation on top of the contaminated Superfund site located at 51 Eames Street in South Wilmington.

The waste transfer facility would transload various materials, including construction and demolition debris, municipal solid waste, contaminated soils, liquid chemicals, newsprint, non-hazardous waste, and other products, from trucks to railroad cars. The facility would include grinding and processing activities.

NET has been attempting to circumvent local opposition by way of a federal exemption. NET has argued that the facility's use of railroads to transport the solid waste make the proposal eligible for federal exemption - which would override all local and state regulations pertaining to the handling of solid waste - from the STB. The STB is a three-member board charged with promoting the use of railways to alleviate truck traffic on the nation's highways.

In April of 2006, the coalition filed a petition questioning the STB's jurisdiction over the project and urged the STB to postpone environmental review until a jurisdictional ruling was reached. The NSWMA-drafted petition argued that the project was primarily a waste handling facility, and that its ancillary use of railways should not constitute eligibility for an STB exemption.

In the June 12, 2006 ruling, the STB declared, "The comments received to date on the petition raise questions about the extent to which the activities proposed to be conducted by NET come within the Board's jurisdiction. It makes sense to resolve this question prior to proceeding further with the Board's environmental review process. Disposition of this issue will assist SEA in determining the appropriate scope of environmental review in this case."

As a result of its decision to suspend its environmental review, STB established an opportunity for all interested parties to offer comment on the matter. Comments should specifically address activities normally associated with transloading, and thus would be part of rail transportation. Parties are also invited to offer comment on what activities would normally be associated with municipal solid waste handling and construction and demolition debris processing and which would occur absent rail transportation.

Opponents to NET's proposal are heartened by the STB's decision, but acknowledge that the fight to keep the project out of Wilmington is far from over.

"The STB has issued an interim decision on the New England Transrail matter which grants our recent motion for expedited consideration on the key question in this case - whether the STB has exclusive jurisdiction over NET's proposed activities - and defers further environmental review until that key question is answered," said Steve Changaris, said Steve Changaris, Manager of NSWMA's New England District. "This decision tells us that the STB has been listening to the recent commotion in Congress and is now ready to address the jurisdictional question head on, something it has refused to do to date."

According to Wilmington State Representative James Miceli, the STB's decision represents a good sign for the town.

"The final outcome is still in question, but taking the jurisdiction issue up first is of vital importance," Miceli said. "There has been a lot of pressure from us, from the state, the town, and the federal delegation. I'm optimistic that this decision bodes well for us."

Division 2 North Sectional Final

Incredible season comes to an end

In the fifth inning of Monday night's Division 2 North sectional final played at Lowell's Martin Field, Tewksbury High junior catcher Michelle Kelley made a sensational play at the plate. Concord-Carlisle's Eliza Jacobellis was trying to score on an inside the park home run but Kelley was able to tag her out at the plate thanks to a strong relay throw by shortstop Erica Matranga. ## No Miner journey for Redmen Softball team

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

LOWELL -- Twenty four hours earlier, the Tewksbury High softball team left 18 runs and 21 hits on the Endicott College softball diamond. The next night, Tewksbury left their hearts, their souls, and all of the softball passion on the diamond of Lowell's Martin Field.

The incredible ride that really could never have been scripted ended for the very young, very inexperienced Redmen softball team, who learned to play together as a team from Day One and it continued to Monday evening. That was the sole reason why the Redmen came three wins away from winning the program's first ever state championship.

After demolishing North Andover 18-1 in the sectional semi-final game on Sunday, Tewksbury was blanked by a very good Concord-Carlisle team, 2-0, in a very exciting Division 2 sectional final played in front of a packed crowd.

The Redmen had been no-hit through the first six innings before consecutive safeties followed by a pass ball put runners at second and third with no outs. But then Concord-Carlisle junior Kim Miner struck out batters 15, 16 and 17 on the night, three in a row, as the Patriots celebrated with the victory.

That was the third time since 2000 that Concord-Carlisle has ended Tewksbury's season. In 2000, Tewksbury was defeated by the Patriots, 4-2, in the program's first ever trip to the sectional final. Two years ago when Miner was a freshman, the Patriots won 1-0 in a quarter-final match-up. Now after Monday, Concord-Carlisle captured its fifth sectional title since 1999, and advanced to the state semi-final game played Tuesday night at Taunton High School against Norton High School.

Tewksbury ends the season with a remarkable 21-3 overall record, which included winning the program's second straight Merrimack Valley Conference title, as well as posting state tournament victories against Stoneham (8-2), Triton (2-1 in 13 innings) and North Andover (18-1). All of this coming after a season which the team posted an 18-3 overall record, which included the program's first ever league

On Monday night, the Tewksbury High girls softball team was defeated by Concord-Carlisle, 2-0, in the Division 2 North sectional final played at Lowell's Martin Field. This year's team ended the season with a remarkable 21-3 overall, winning its second straight MVC title and making the program's second appearance ever in the sectional final. After the game was over the team was presented the runners-up trophy by MIAA tournament director Barbara Damon. The team gathered with head coach Leo DiRocco who holds the trophy. The team includes (in no order): Kelsey Gill, Mary Lane, Jilisa Rawding, Cristine Summering, Michelle Kelley, Brianna Welch, Erica Belliveau, Sheran Elliott, Marissa Fiorentino, Amanda Fogaren, Michaela Marche, Brooke Lizotte, Melissa Popp, Meghan Haley, Kelsey McLaughlin, Kristen Smolinsky, Sammy Macy and Erica Matranga. title, while sending five starting players off to collegiate programs.

This year's team returned two healthy starters in April, with the third coming off shoulder surgery. Getting to the sectional final and playing a tremendous ballgame at Concord-Carlisle scored a run in each of the first two innings, which for them was huge considering their opponents had put up a football score the night before.

"I said to my assistant coach that we hadn't scored half of the 18 runs Tewksbury scored

In the top of the first the Patriots got on the scoreboard when Eliza Jacobellis scored on a RBI single up the middle by Lisa DeBruzzi. In the second inning, Concord-Carlisle loaded the bases on a hits batsman, a sacrifice bunt, a walk and a fielder's choice two runners on in the bottom of the second on a drop infield pop up and a walk. Miner struck out the next two batters to get out of the inning.

Tewksbury pitcher Michaela Marche pitched arguably her best game of the season. She seemed to have much more plays. In the top of the fifth inning Jacobellis smashed a gap shot to center field that carried over the head of Sheran Elliott. She retrieved the ball and did the right thing, firing a strong throw to the cut-off person, Matranga, who was a few feet into the outfield grass. Jacobellis had touched third base and was coming home for the inside the park home run. Matranga turned and fired an absolute bullet to home plate where catcher Michelle Kelley made a terrific block of the plate, while leaping a few inches for the throw and applying the tag into a sliding Jacobellis for a huge and very impressive all-around out.

The second defensive gem for Tewksbury came in the sixth inning. With Hawes at first base and no outs, Sydney Levan dropped a sacrifice bunt in front of the plate. Kelley made a tough throw to first to get Levan. Then first baseman Kristen Smolinsky threw a perfect ball across the diamond to third baseman Erica Belliveau, who applied the tag at third for the double play.

After striking out the side in each of the first two innings, Miner got No. 7 to begin the third before several Tewksbury batters started to make contact. Miner was effective mostly on her rise ball, throwing it a lot with two strikes, but she also added in a change-up, mostly when she was ahead 0-1. She went on to retire the side in order in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings which set up the dramatics in the bottom of the seventh.

Elliott took the two-strike change-up and singled up the middle as the rally hats got going. Matranga blooped a single right over the first base bag, allowing Elliott to reach second base. Both runners moved up on a pass ball. But Miner escaped trouble by striking out the next three batters to end the game and unfortunately put an end to Tewksbury's tremendous season.

"We had a shot at the end and we didn't capitalize on it," said DiRocco. "And we've (capitalized) all season. Tonight we just didn't do our thing."

"I know the kids are disappointed but when they look back whether it's next year or in a few weeks, they'll realize what they have accomplished a heck of a lot."

Redmen Softball Team Picture Perfect

Inside this sports section, the Town Crier gives two full pages of sports photos of the Redmen softball team during the team's Division 2 North sectional game played against Concord-Carlisle. In addition, there's more coverage of the team's state tournament run including a recap of the team's 18-1 win over North Andover in the sectional semi-final.

Martin Field wasn't in the cards back in March.

"Hey I'm so proud of the way these kids played all season," said head coach Leo DiRocco. "It was one hell of a season. We have absolutely nothing to be ashamed of. We came into the season with two healthy returning starters and the third was coming off shoulder surgery. We had a fantastic season - I'll take this kind of season any year."

combined throughout the entire tournament," said CC head coach Lisa McGloin. "But I told the kids that during the regular season we faced teams in our league and beat them by similar scores and that didn't mean a thing coming into this game and neither did the 18-1 score Tewksbury had over North Andover. It was a new game and you have to come out and play the game."

error. Then after a strikeout, Abbie Rolando belted a groundball to deep short and Erica Matranga came busting in and made a strong throw to first but Rolando just beat it out to drive in Ashley Hawes with the second run of the game.

Meanwhile Tewksbury had a real hard time making contact against Miner. The first four batters struck out, but Tewksbury was able to get on her fastball and much better command of her pitches on this night, compared to the win over North Andover, and did a real nice job of mixing up pitches throughout the strike zone and on the corners of the plate. At one point of the game she retired seven of eight batters and finished the game retiring the final five.

Marche was also helped out by two dynamic defensive

Redmen bury the Knights in semifinal

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

BEVERLY - Six days earlier, the Tewksbury High softball team needed 13 innings to scratch out two runs and more importantly a win over Triton Regional in a quarterfinal state tournament game.

On Sunday evening, it took one at bat to get two runs, as the Redmen pounded out 21 hits in thrashing North Andover, 18-1, in the Division 2 North sectional semi-final game played at Endicott College in Beverly.

The game was originally scheduled to be played last Wednesday in Lowell, but was postponed twice due to inclement weather. And Sunday's game almost didn't get in either, as the Division 3 game between Austin Prep and North Reading went extra innings, and Tewksbury's contest didn't begin until 90 minutes after the scheduled 5:00 pm start (no lights at Endicott College's field).

With that victory, Tewksbury advanced to play Concord-Carlisle in the program's second trip to the Division 2 North sectional final, which was played Monday night at Martin Field in Lowell. Concord-Carlisle won that contest, 2-0.

"It was real tough keeping everyone focused after all the rain and stuff," said Tewksbury coach Leo DiRocco after the win over NA. "But this team keeps fooling me. After the first couple of innings these kids really got their focus and played great."

But when the game officially began, North Andover scored one run in the top of the first inning on two hits. But then the Knights took the field and never came off as Tewksbury strung together a handful of long half innings.

"I thought we might be a little rusty at bat since we hadn't faced live pitching in a game in a while," said DiRocco. "But, man, everyone was hitting. Sheran got us going with her home run. Then (Kristen Smolinsky) hit one. Matranga's hit was the hardest ball she's probably hit all season. Everyone was hitting."

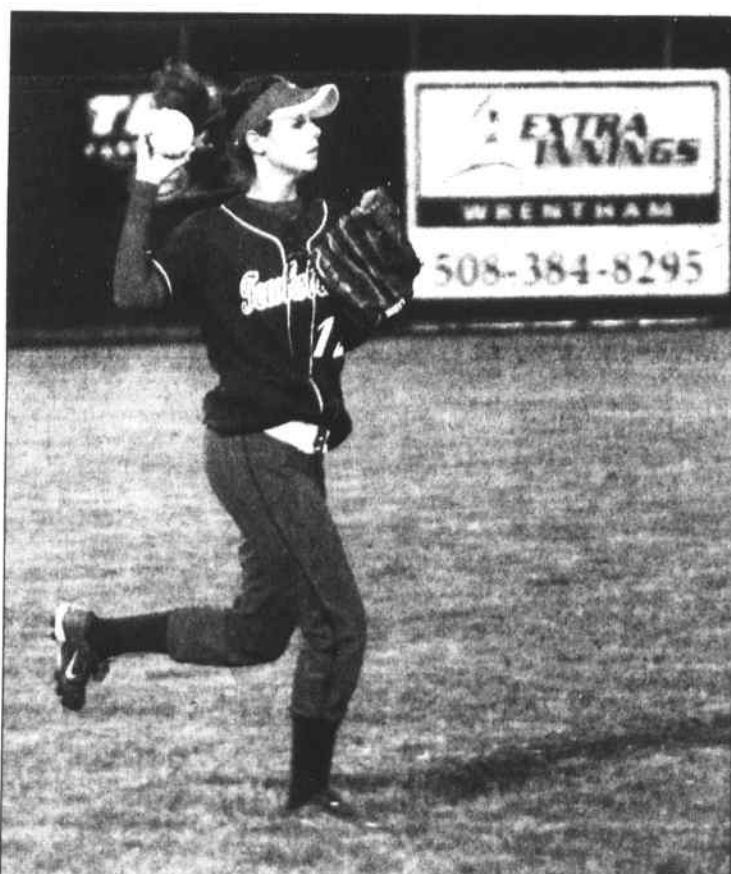

The Redmen scored two runs in the first, five in the second inning before really breaking it wide open with eight runs in the fourth. Tewksbury added three more in the sixth.

Senior captains Sheran Elliott and Kristen Smolinsky led the 21-hit attack with home runs. Elliott belted a two-run blast to deep center field in the second inning. Smolinsky then came up to the plate in the fifth wearing Elliott's helmet and she smashed an opposite field two-run homer over the right field fence.

Jilisa Rawding and Michelle Kelley both went 4-for-5 at the plate, while, junior shortstop Erica Matranga had 4 RBI, including a bases clearing double in the fifth. Every Tewksbury starter had at least one hit, while, Smolinsky and Elliott had three each.

Junior Michaela Marche recorded her third post season victory on the mound. She went the first five innings giving up one earned run on three hits while walking two, hitting a batter and striking out three. She gave way to Smolinsky who pitched a scoreless sixth inning giving up two hits, before sophomore Marissa Fiorentino pitched a perfect seventh with one strikeout to close the door.

On the left, Tewksbury High senior captain and left fielder Amanda Fogaren throws the ball back into the infield during Monday night's game in Lowell. And on the right, second baseman Jilisa Rawding tags a runner at second base while shortstop Erica Matranga looks on.

Austin Prep falls in extra innings

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

BEVERLY — At the bottom of the box score, Austin Prep totaled 22 hits ... but the next number was three. That was the amount of runs the softball team scored despite stranding 23 runners on base during Sunday night's 7-4, three-and-a-half hour Division 3 North sectional semi-final contest against North Reading played at Endicott College in Beverly.

Austin Prep had countless number of chances to score and win the game, including stranding the bases loaded with no outs three different times.

"It was just a lot of blown opportunities," said Austin Prep coach Dave Gramling. "You can't leave the bases loaded with no outs three different times. We stranded 23 runners on base and had 22 hits - it's just disappointing to lose like this."

Austin Prep showed great character coming back from four deficits. North Reading took a 2-0 lead in the top of the second, only to see Austin score a single run in the second and one more in the third to tie it up.

North Reading went ahead 3-2 in the fifth, only to see Austin Prep come back again in the home half. And then the same thing happened in the seventh, as Austin's No. 9 hitter Kelley Linehan sent a two-out double in the left center gap sending the game to extra innings.

Austin Prep loaded the bases in the 8th, 10th and 11th innings with no outs and failed to score, leaving ten runners on base in the five extra innings, while also stranding runners at the corners with two outs after Linehan's two-out hit.

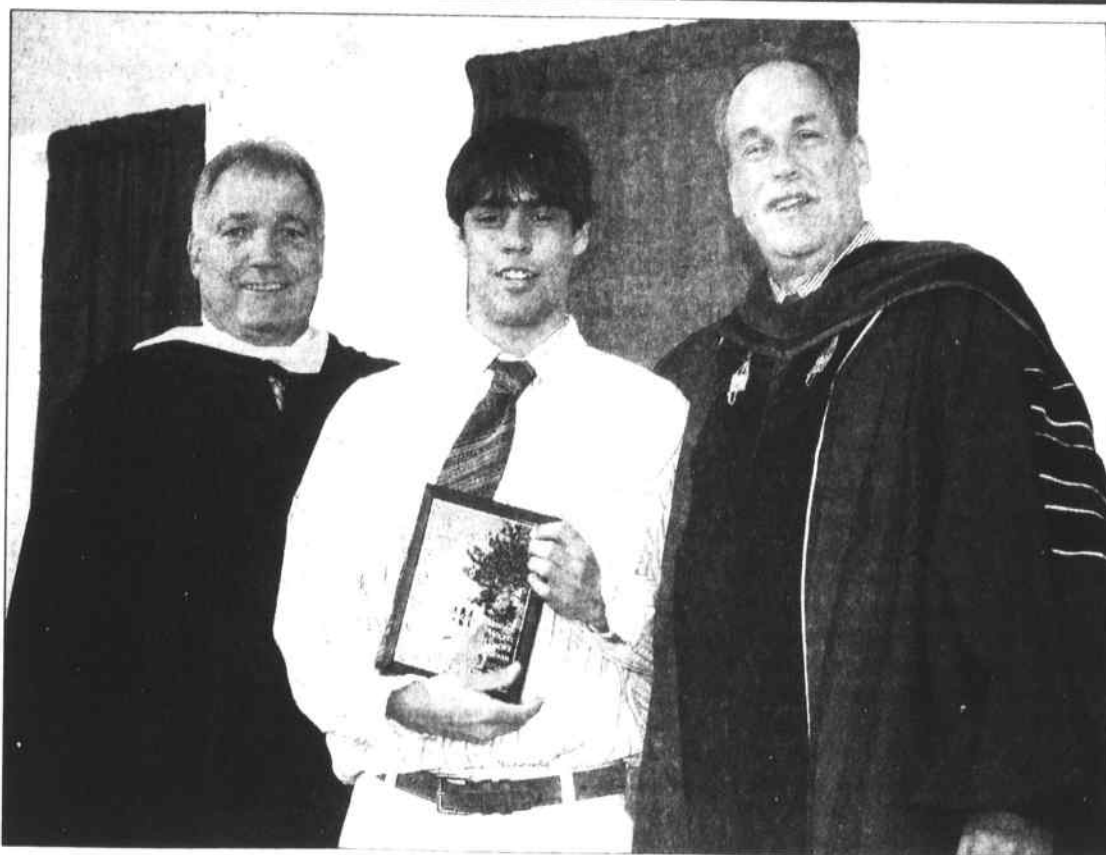

Wilmington resident Caroline Barr is the only local on the team and she played very well. At the plate she ended up going 2-for-7 with a double and a single to right field which kept things going in the home half of the 12th. She also made 16 putouts and had an assist while playing first base. North Reading's Jessica Scioi and Melissa Bianchi, who were key members of the WHS girls hockey team, also figured in the win. Scioi scored the second run in the three run 12th inning, and Bianchi played flawless defense in left field.

On Monday, North Reading advanced to the state semi-final game with a 3-0 win over Ipswich to capture the Division 3 North sectional title. Scioi drove in the game winning run with a RBI double in the first and she came in two batters later on a RBI single by Bianchi.

Under 11A girls play pair of games

The U11A girls soccer team had two games this weekend and finished on a high note. The girls played two solid games only allowing one goal to be scored on them. On Saturday the Wildcats visited Lincoln on a rainy morning and muddy field and on Sunday they played North Reading and we actually had no rain and the sun was out.

In both games the Wildcats out played the opposition and with the two wins they finished their season undefeated. They will next play in the Commissioner's Cup which Wilmington is hosting this coming weekend and hope to keep the win streak going.

Justin DiRienzo, a St. John's Prep student and Wilmington resident, recently received the Freshman Hockey Coach's Award. Justin was moved up from the freshman team to the varsity team midway through the season. (courtesy photo)

Peterson tosses no-hitter for the Prep

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

Wilmington resident Steve Peterson tossed a nine-inning no-hitter leading the St. John's Prep baseball team to an 10-0 victory over Newton North in Sunday's Division 1 North sectional semi-final played at Lowell's Alumni Stadium.

Peterson had just three runners reach base all game, as he walked and plunked Sam Shaughnessy (son of Boston Globe sportswriter Dan Shaughnessy), while the third runner reached on an error. Besides that Peterson was in complete control finishing with 10 strikeouts.

"To be honest with you, the no-hitter was in my head the whole time," Peterson said in an interview with the Boston Herald. "I was thinking about it. I didn't want to talk about it on the bench and get everybody thinking about it, but I knew it. And I just tried to stick to what I was doing. I didn't want to do anything different than I was doing."

St. John's scored a run in the first inning before later breaking the game wide open. That made things easier for Peterson, who had terrific command of his pitches all game long.

"I felt good coming out of the bullpen," said Peterson in the same interview. "I felt like I had good command of my fast-ball. I could put it where I wanted it. And also my off-speed stuff - my changeup was working really well today. It was making a lot of kids go fishing for it."

Peterson, who tossed a regular season seven inning no-hitter against Xaverian, will be headed to Marist College, in the fall. Before he gets there, he's hoping he'll have another crack on the mound as St. John's advanced to the sectional final for the second straight year thanks to his brilliant performance.

MVC Baseball School offers three weeks of camps

LOWELL, MA (June 12, 2006)

The Merrimack Valley Baseball School at UMass Lowell, directed by UML Head Coach Ken Harring, is offering three weeks of baseball fun and instruction this summer at the Cushing Field Complex on the University's North Campus.

Session I will be held from June 26-29 while Session II is slated for July 5-7 and Session III July 17-20.

Each session is open to children aged 6-12 at a preregistration cost of $200 ($210 for walk-up registrants), and will run from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Instruction will emphasize fun, fundamentals, repetition and skills that players can utilize at home.

Harring, who recently completed his second season at UML, is fresh off leading the River Hawks to a 37-14 season and their ninth trip to the NCAA Tournament in the last 10 seasons.

Harring will be joined by UML pitching coach Bryan Welch, hitting coach Ken Kassariss and catching instructor Mike Marron, as well as several members of the UML team.

Registration forms can be accessed online at the official site of UMass Lowell athletics: www.goriverhawks.com. For more information, contact Ken Harring at (978) 934-2344 or by e-mail kennethharring@uml.edu.

Wildcat athletic camps offered throughout the summer

The 8th annual Wildcat All Sports Clinic will be held for boys' & girls' in grades 2 thru 8 this summer. The dates are July 10th to July 14th and will be held at the Wilmington Middle School. The Clinic is designed to expose the participants to many sports such as baseball, basketball, soccer, paddle tennis, softball, frisbee, tag football and more. There is fun for all. The clinic includes instruction, sport and games in each sport. For a brochure and more information, please call Bob Almeida at the Middle School, 978-694-6080 ext. 1071.

Hoop Camp

The Wildcat Basketball Clinic will be offered in Wilmington this summer. The clinic dates for the boys will be Monday, June 19 to Friday, June 23 at Wilmington High School. The girls' week will be on Monday, June 26, June 27 at Wilmington Middle School. The ages for boys and girls are 7-13. Some of the clinic features are:

1. Camp shirt
2. Staff consist of local coaches, college and high school players
3. Age and ability grouping
4. Drill stations
5. Games
6. Hot shot competition
7. One on one contests
8. Foul shooting contests

9. Indoor and outdoor courts.

For brochures and more information, please call Jim Tildsley, home number (978-470-1128), cell number (978-423-6593) or work number (978-694-6080).

Soccer Camp

Dates are set, and applications are being accepted for the 2006 Wildcat Soccer Clinic run by clinic directors Mark DiGiovanni and Justin Vallas.

Wildcat Soccer Clinic strives to guide the community's youth towards the understanding and appreciation for the game of soccer. Basic soccer skills such as passing, shooting, dribbling, tackling and heading will be taught through the use of technical drills, small sided games and fun competitions in an atmosphere that encourages fair play and sportsmanship.

The morning sessions focus on the basic skills of the game through repetition of practice starting from a freestanding position without any pressure, building to rehearsal and finally mastery.

The afternoon sessions consist of small sided scrimmages, game situations and fun competitions. Our clinic is a great way to spend the week with friends and our carefully selected staff at school standouts. Clinic times, and locations for both girls' and boys' clinics are below.

Girls' Clinic
July 17th - July 21st
9:00 am - 2:00 pm
Woburn Street School

Boys' Clinic
July 24th - July 28th
9:00 am - 2:00 pm

Youth Lacrosse will send nine teams to jamboree

On Sunday, July 18th, WYLA will send 9 teams to the 14th Annual MBYLL Jamboree in Devens, MA. Rated as the largest youth lacrosse jamboree in the world, over 360 teams and 75,000 players will be participating in this 4 day tournament. Coach and WYLA president Mike Leighton stated "What a great job MBYLL does organizing all of these kids. I can't think of a better way to spend my Father's Day, then watching my boys play lacrosse."

In only their second season,

WYLA now has over 200 boys and girls playing at the youth level in ages ranging from 4 years old to 15 years old. Not only is this extraordinary for a new youth program, but Wilmington now has the largest participation in the Northeast region of the MBYLL. This doesn't include the two new boys and girls high school teams initiated this year. "It was just a matter of time that Wilmington caught up with all of the other surrounding towns, and began a youth and high school program in the fastest growing sport in the USA," replied U13 Grey Coach and VP Mike Fay.

This year, WYLA initiated a U9 program, for those players in 2nd grade and under. U9 Director Kevin Blanch was elated when he spoke "We anticipated about 10-15 kids would turn out for sign-ups. Much to our surprise, we had over 30 boys and girls sign-up despite the rainy conditions. We expect that this age group could double next year, after hearing how much fun the kids are having." Boys Director,

Scott McDougall commented "I can't believe how easily these young player can pick things up. They just love to learn new things."

WYLA officer Mark Kennedy was quick to point out that, "none of this would be possible without the unbelievable support that we received from the parents, town officials, other youth organizations, and businesses in Wilmington. I was overwhelmed with the donations and goodwill we received."

Under 11 Blue Lax team hosts Royals

This past Sunday marked the end of the regular lacrosse season for Wilmington's U11 Blue Team as they hosted Georgetown. For the second time this year, these two teams met on the field for an exciting, evenly matched game.

Georgetown was on fire and within minutes of the first quarter, scored the first goal of the game. However, shortly thereafter Troy Homola unleashed a searing shot into Georgetown's net to tie it up for the Cats. At the end of the first quarter the score was an even 1-1.

Again Georgetown was first to score in the second quarter, but a flawless pass from Alec Dell'Anno to Troy Homola accounted for the Cat's second goal to tie the game up again! With superb stick handling, the Cats kept possession of the ball, visibly frustrating Georgetown. The Cat's third goal during the second quarter was the result of Dell'Anno's speed and agility, which edge them slightly ahead. To the Wildcat's players and fans dismay, Brooks Carter's shot narrowly missed Georgetown's net.

Justin DeNorsia's usual rock-solid goal tending for the Cats during the first half eliminated several of Georgetown's scoring opportunities, including a sizzler that bounced off the goal post. At the end of the first half, the Cats were ahead 3-2.

The middle lines of Joe Bosco, Gino Martignetti, Zack Lord, Shane Brennan, Chris Sartori, Jacob Pumphret, and Troy Homola, along with the defensive lines of Gerry O'Reilly, Matt Penney, Jimmy Lawrenson, and Mitchell DeAmbrose, and the attackers including Brooks Carter, Mike Ferrara, and Madison Roberts controlled the offensive possession with great positioning and smart shot selections.

During the second half the Cats turned the heat up, as Steven DeFuria took control of the net. With yet another spectacular pass from Dell'Anno to Homola in the third quarter, the Cats secured another goal, followed-up by a hard-fought bomb from Joe Bosco, but not before Georgetown stopped the onslaught by stuffing in another goal to close the third quarter 5-3 with Wilmington hanging onto the lead.

Steven DeFuria refused to allow any goals past him, as Jacob Pumphret reeled off not one, but two impressive goals during the fourth quarter to help the Cats capture a 7-3 win over Georgetown, and ending U11 Blue's regular season with a record of three wins, and four losses.

On Sunday, 6/18, Wilmington's U11, U13, and U15 Youth Lacrosse Teams will travel to Devens Recreation Facility to participate in the 14th Annual Mass Bay Youth Lacrosse Jamboree. The four day event is the largest single site youth jamboree in the world, hosting approximately 360 teams with over 7,500 players. We wish the best of luck to all the Wilmington Lacrosse Teams participating in the Jamboree, and congratulations on another successful season!

21 win campaign something to remember

Tewksbury High head coach Leo DiRocco ponders his next move while his assistant coach, son Todd DiRocco, looks on during Monday's sectional final loss to Concord-Carlisle. The father and son duo have been together for 18 years and came three wins away from winning its first ever state championship. (JoeBrownphotos.com)

The Tewksbury High School softball team had every reason to cheer after posting 21 wins, winning the MVC title and being crowned the Division 2 North sectional finalist. (JoeBrownphotos.com)

Above, Tewksbury High's Erica Matranga takes a lead off second base during the bottom of the seventh inning in which the Redmen had two runners on base but couldn't get one home. And to the right, senior captain Kristen Smolinsky couldn't believe a strike was called on her during one of her at bats. (JoeBrownphotos.com)

Wakefield's Stephen Carriere: Aiming high in Figure Skating

By DOUG WOOD-BOYLE

It is a well known truth in sports that the champions set their goals early and expect to make many sacrifices before attaining them. It has been no different for Wakefield High School Junior Stephen Carriere, who has already won some top awards in the world of Junior Men's Figure Skating and is now setting his eyes on the world of Senior Men's or championship level figure skating.

Carriere, who qualified on Sunday to enter into the senior level, said "If I wasn't skating I would probably have a different outlook. I don't feel like I'm missing anything, because of skating events, I can push some high school events aside."

"I have told myself I'm willing to miss them."

For Carriere, his goals were consciously set in 1994, when two things occurred. He had to accompany his sister Christine, when his mother took her to figure skating lessons at the Stoneham Arena. At the same time he became aware that Lynnfield resident and Stoneham native Nancy Kerrigan won the Silver Medal at the 1994 Winter Olympics.

He was impressed by the "... athleticism that went on during the events and watching skaters perform all those things on one blade. It was really interesting and decided I wanted to go on and perform."

At the time he was five years-old. According to his official biography, "His mom put him in hockey skates to learn and soon discovered that he had a talent for figure skating."

At age seven, Carriere began in the U.S. Figure Skating Basic Skills Program in Stoneham (Kerrigan's home rink) and also at the Nelson Burbank Arena in Reading. In his first season he was able to complete Phases one through six of the Basic Skills Program and in his second season completed his lessons in Free-Style Skating.

At this point the serious work started, and Carriere came under the tutelage of Susan Hamel. While studying with Hamel, one of his sacrifices was made easier when he met Reading resident Juliana Cannarozzo.

Carriere said, "The one thing I'm missing would be to have one good friend in high school."

He does add that his classmates are very supportive of Carriere's goals and successes. When he returns to classes from being at a Tournament in the Czech Republic, Slovenia, or places throughout the United States and Europe, his classmates all want to know about his trips and how he placed.

Despite all of this, he calls Cannarozzo his best friend. In fact the two of them both qualified as Senior Figure Skaters in their respective classes on Sunday at the Skating Club of Boston.

Both skaters still have the same coaches, Mark Mitchell and Peter Johansson. They share Jamie Isley as a choreographer, although Cannarozzo also uses Mitchell.

All of his training has led Carriere to do very well this past year. He took a first place in the Junior Division at the U.S. Nationals in St. Louis, which allowed him to go to Slovenia for the World Junior Championships, where he took fourth place.

An article by Jyrki Pirkkalainen for U.S. Figure Skating Online describes the fourth place finish: "Starting from sixth place after the short program, USA's Stephen Talented Wakefield High School Junior, Stephen Carriere, has already won some top awards in the world of Junior Men's Figure Skating, and is now setting his eyes on the world of Senior Men's or championship level figure skating.

Carriere landed seven triples including the Axel in his "Once Upon A Time In Mexico" free skate. Only the second Lutz was not clean, with a hand and the free foot down. The performance was enough for fourth in the free skate and overall, and a 1.63 point distance separated the Boston-based skater from the podium."

All of this has not taken away from his school work. Carriere has been on high honor roll from seventh through 11th grade and French his favorite subject.

According to his bio:

• He has even skated in a few shows with Kerrigan.

• Achieved a 5.40 mile for an annual 1 mile competition.

• Works at the Skater's Landing shop at the SC of Boston.

• Participates with the Junior Activities Committee at the club.

• Hobbies include working out, running, going out with friends, hanging out with his family, and.

• He likes going to the beach and playing tennis.

Carriere has a solid dedication to school and grades and has reportedly said his biggest

Movie Reviews

by Paul Feely

"CARS" - Lots of laughs

"CARS"

GRADE: ***

In "Cars," the animation wizards at Pixar imagine an alternate universe where automobiles drive themselves and talk. TV shows are interrupted for "breaking news" bulletins, they are shaped like tiny Volkswagen Bugs and the skies are sometimes streaked fluffy white tire tracks instead of vapor trails from airplanes (and gas also doesn't cost a dime apparently). It's another amazing achievement for the studio, as the film captures the imagination of children while throwing in some humor for the adults in the room as well.

"Cars" has jokes such as a racing car sponsored by Hostile Takeover Bank, and there's cameo appearances from Tom and Ray Magbozzi, the hosts of National Public Radio's "Car Talk". It also features some stunning visuals, including a mock Monument Valley, in which all the rock formations are shaped like hubcaps and car hoods, and a nondescript little town that turns into a wonderland of glorious neon after the sun goes down.

This attention to detail and colors makes "Cars" one of the most eye-pleasing computer-animated films to date, and the soundtrack by John Mayer, Rascal Flatts and Sheryl Crow is an added bonus.

Lightning McQueen (Owen Wilson) is a champion racer who has let success go straight to his head. He soon finds himself stranded in the long-dormant Radiator Springs, where he learns he's going to need some help to get back on the road.

Pixar has created several endearing personalities, including Fillmore, a VW van from the 1960s that advocates using "homemade organic fuel" and speaks in the voice of George Carlin. Sally (Bonnie Hunt), a perky Porsche that gave up life in the fast lane for quieter pleasures; Tow Mater (Larry the Cable Guy), a buck-toothed tow truck that announces he's "happier than a tornado in a trailer park" when he's around Lightning; and Doc (Paul Newman), a battered but still feisty 1951 Hudson Hornet that looks at Lightning with total disdain.

As is typical with a Pixar film, the laughs continue all the way to the movie's last frame. Those who leave early will miss a great salute to veteran Pixar star John Ratzenberger that doubles as a sort of miniretrospective of the animation studio's hits.

"THE BREAK-UP"

GRADE: **

"The Break-Up" is a pleasant surprise for anyone looking for a breezy summer comedy.

The first half of this Vince Vaughn-Jennifer Aniston pairing is the dumb man-beautiful woman comedy the trailer suggests. The second half is a drama about two mismatched people who, having drifted together, drift apart slowly out of fear, selfishness and miscommunication. The ending produced gasps of both delight and possible dismay.

Vaughn helped come up with the story and was one of the producers. He plays Gary, one of three blue-collar Polish brothers who run a tour-guide service around Chicago. Gary meets WASPy Brooke (Aniston), who works at a gallery of modern art, at a Cubs game. They fall improbably in love - so improbably that we don't see it - and move quickly to the point where they take each other for granted. The filmmakers fill in the gaps with characters meant to be funny, from her brother (John Michael Higgins) to his bartender buddy (Jon Favreau).

As the two quarrel, the only thing that holds them together is the condominium they both refuse to leave. They play competitive, irritating mind games with each other that turn uglier, and approach the point when the wrong decision will mean an irrevocable split.

It's not the laugh-filled comedy the commercials make it out to be, and instead possesses some depth.

"X-MEN III: THE LAST STAND"

GRADE: **

Despite its title, this isn't the end of the "X-Men" series, if the weekend box office numbers of $107 million indicate anything. In a Hollywood hurting for ticket sales, that's simply too strong a debut to kill off a franchise, and the film's finale is the perfect set-up for more.

If you enjoyed the first two "X-Men" films, you won't want to miss this. If you're a

Wakefield Comedy Night on Wednesday, June 21st

The Best Western Lord Wakefield is bringing some of the area's funniest comedians back to the local stage as two of Boston's best - Joey Carroll and Jack Lynch - headline the show on Wednesday, June 21st.

A Boston favorite, Joey Carroll has been described as a cross between George Carlin and Dennis Miller. His no holds barred style has earned him a spot at the Montreal Comedy Festival and on Comedy Central's Pulp Comics. Carroll's "set up and punch" style keeps crowds on their toes as he discusses politics, growing up in Boston, and "his Uncle Chuck."

For the past five years, Carroll has toured the Middle East war zones entertaining U.S. troops in Afghanistan, Iraq, and other countries where US servicemen and women are serving.

Jack Lynch is a 14-year veteran of the Boston comedy scene who has toured all over

Austin Preparatory School 41st commencement

Austin Preparatory School celebrated its 41st Commencement on Sunday, June 4th as Headmaster Paul Moran awarded diplomas to 115 graduates of the Class of 2006. The 1,200-plus seat Multi-Purpose Facility was filled to capacity with faculty, family, friends, and alumni who gathered to honor Austin's newest graduates.

The ceremony began with an invocation by Susan Vacanti, the school's Campus Minister. Austin's two top-ranking students, valedictorian Emily Biberger of Lynnfield and salutatorian Katherine Alfieri of Malden, each addressed their classmates in farewell, as did Headmaster Moran. Richard McGowan, S.J., an associate professor at the Carroll School of Management at Boston College, delivered the keynote address.

McGowan reflected with the students, families, friends, and teachers on some of the lessons he has learned and how they might help the graduates with their own pilgrimages throughout their academic life. Sharing anecdotal stories, McGowan engaged the audience. "You are very gifted people who soon will be challenged to widen your interests no matter what profession you enter. Keep yourself open to new learning and actively seek it out." He summed up his keynote encouraging the graduates to "realize just how talented you are and never doubt the contributions you can make. Take a risk and don't be content where you are. Appreciate the talents of others and realize that your learning has just started. Finally, share your talents with others by teaching them how you developed your gifts."

The following local residents received diplomas from Austin Preparatory School:

Jesse Cuccio - Curry College

Nicole Lamb - Regis College

'Pearls' at Elyse Jewelers with Boston Magazine

On Thursday, June 15, from 6:00 p.m. through 9:00 p.m., Elyse Fine Jewelers and Gemologists, along with Boston Magazine, will be celebrating the Month of the Pearl by hosting the largest showing of pearls and pearl jewelry in New England.

This annual event, named Sushi, Sake and Pearls, is free and open to the public.

Elyse Jewelers together with Crown Imperial Pearl Company and YVEL will display an amazing collection of Japanese Akoya, natural South Sea, Tahitian, and Keshi Pearls.

A special feature this year will be the New England introduction of the exclusive Eyris Blue Pearl from New Zealand.

Tiffany Kelley, Miss Massachusetts USA, will be on-hand to greet guests and model the latest pearl fashions, all to be specially priced for this event.

While you browse, enjoy complimentary Japanese tea service, sample traditional Japanese sushi and indulge in a tasting of imported Ginjo Sake, presented by Ruby Wines.

Representatives from the Crown Imperial Pearl Company and YVEL will be on-hand throughout the evening. The Crown Imperial Pearl Company has been in business since 1917 and is widely acknowledged as one of the world's leading pearl companies.

Senior momentum in Reading

"For the second year, the Burbank YMCA and the Reading Public Library joined together with YMCAs nationwide to celebrate older adults on YMCA National Active Older Adult Day," notes the Reading edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"This special day highlights activities designed especially for members of this age group, introducing them to all of the ways they can get involved in their local Y's and their communities."

"There are currently 34.4 million people in the U.S. who are age 55 and older and this population is increasing rapidly," said Barbara Domenici, Older Adult Director of the Burbank YMCA. "Older Americans are a vital segment of society and play an important role in our families and communities."

"We encourage seniors of all abilities and fitness levels to explore YMCA older adult programs so they can get fit, stay fit and stay involved. YMCA older adult programs are consistent with the findings presented in the U.S. Surgeon General's Report on Physical Activity and Health, which reports that older adults attain significant health benefits with a moderate amount of physical exercise.

"Studies also indicate that older adults are seeking more than physical benefits when they begin an exercise program. In exercise and all aspects of their lives, they also want to experience a sense of community, and to develop and strengthen social ties. In response to this need, the Burbank YMCA and the Reading Public Library are working together to hold a second annual informational fair at the library during regular library hours from 1:00 to 3:30 p.m. in honor of YMCA National Active Older Adult Day...."

'Another year' in Burlington

"In a unanimous vote, Gary Gianino was elected to chair the Board of Selectmen for the second consecutive year," notes the Burlington edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"Sonia Rollins nominated Gianino, with Albert Fay seconding. There were no other nominations for the position of chairman."

"I'd like to thank the board for giving me another year as chairman," said Gianino after the vote.

"Fay nominated Kevin McKelvey for vice chairman, with Rollins offering a second."

"Ralph Patuto, in his first meeting on the board, nominated Rollins. There was no second and the motion died."

"McKelvey was elected vice chairman on a 4-1 vote, with Patuto voting no."

"At the board's first meeting following the town election, Gianino congratulated Fay and Patuto who won the two available seats on the Board of Selectmen. The turnout of 40.5 percent was 'great to see,' commented Gianino.

"He also made note of a number of elected officials who were voted out of office."

"I want to thank them for their service," stated Gianino. He made particular note of Town Meeting Rep. Anne Rowe, with whom Gianino said he always enjoyed discussing issues.

"Fay made note of a great, great job by Town Clerk Jane Chew's office in the election."

"He also commented that the contest was a very close campaign."

"In an opening statement Patuto said, 'It's an honor to be here tonight.'"

RAISE THE FLAG TO NONA, KATE, AND A HOST OF OTHERS

Volunteer extraordinaire for Woburn

In Woburn, one has only to ask its schools to find a volunteer. "Notes the the Woburn edition of the "Daily Chronicle."

Supports and parents of Nona Hegarty is a member at the Woburn School, as is to be in the building as often as many of the students.

Because she volunteered at the school library, she is up to 50 hours a year.

Principal Gary Reese says it is difficult to find words how much of a job she has put into making the library a more accessible place for students.

Conway is an invaluable volunteer at a time when the library staff is short. She has helped to catalog books and to repair damaged ones. In addition, she is involved in co-sponsoring the annual PTO fund-raiser which raises money to purchase new books and materials for the library.

Conway got involved last year when her niece, Renee, started at the school as a fifth grader and continues her involvement even though Renee has moved onto the Kennedy Middle School. "Nona's volunteer efforts are greatly appreciated to the library. She is also very supportive of new students that enter the school for whom English is a second language, helping them be able to better access the regular classroom curriculum."

Approximately fifty volunteers such as Nona help the Linscott-Rumford School provide a safe and nurturing environment for students to reach their highest level of learning.

"You can find many great ways to volunteer to make a difference in Woburn by visiting www.SCIWoburn.org or by calling Social Capital Inc. at 781-935-2244."

'Heading home' from Wilmington

"Middle School Principal Kate Conway is 'heading home,' notes the "Wilmington Town Crier."

"Conway recently accepted a position as Principal of the Kennedy-Longfellow School in Cambridge, drawing 14 years in the Wilmington Public School system to a close.

"A 'native Cantabrigian,' Conway herself is a product of the rich Cambridge educational environment. From Cambridge Latin High School, Conway earned her Baccalaureate degree at Lesley College and her Master's at the Harvard Graduate School of Education. She began her career in the Cambridge Public School system as a teacher, program director and acting principal for 17 years before accepting the principal's post at Wilmington's Woburn Street School in 1992.

"She moved to the North Intermediate School during a system restructuring in 2000. In September of 2001, Conway took the reins at the newly constructed Wilmington Middle School with a goal of building a strong community climate among the students, teachers, parents and administration.

"A principal is only as good as her team," states Conway. "The staff and parents here at the Middle School have been fantastic to work with. We've worked collaboratively, making the school what it is and we've done it for the town, for the kids."

"The town has really invested in education, allowing us to keep our staff and not suffer the constant turnover and increased class sizes that other communities have faced. The town government really values education and they have given us the support we need to improve what we're doing. That's why I've been here for 14 years."

"Conway has been working closely with Superintendent of Schools William H. McAluff since January when she announced her intention to look for a position closer to home.

"Bill has been wonderful throughout the process, and he has certainly been supportive," Conway said. "I truly

•MIDDLESEX EAST SPORTS WEEKLY TRIVIA Which of the following Hall-of-Famers holds the Red Sox record for losses in a season - Red Ruffing, Lefty Grove, Herb Pennock, or Cy Young? Answer appears elsewhere in this column.

•ABIGAIL (ABBY) HILL OF STONEHAM, a junior at the Dana Hall School in Wellesley, was recently named First Team All-Star lacrosse in the Eastern Independent League (EIL). Abby was also selected as a member of the New England Prep School Lacrosse All-Star Team and was awarded Best All-Around lacrosse player at the Dana Hall School. Abby is also an EIL All-Star in soccer and hockey and is team captain of all three sports.

•On Friday June 16th, 2006 RYAN HAGOPIAN FROM READING along with 2,500 fellow athletes and coaches from all over the Commonwealth will converge for the Opening Ceremony at Boston University's Walter Brown Arena to kick off Special Olympics Massachusetts (SOMA) annual Summer Games. The weekend of competition begins with the traditional Lighting of the Cauldron, a tribute to SOMA's 35th anniversary and entertainment by Maximum Velocity Stunt Team. Ryan has been training diligently for many months and has qualified via assessment rounds in his local section in order to compete at this elite state level. The annual SOMA Summer Games is an opportunity for athletes to medal, and a chance for athletes to experience SOMA's Olympic Town. Olympic Town is comprised of numerous activities, entertainment and live music. Athletes can also participate in Healthy Athletes Initiatives (HAI) at Olympic Town, which includes: Healthy Hearing, Special Smiles, Opening Eyes, FunFitness, FitFeet, and Health Promotion.

•FRIENDS OF READING RECREATION (FORR) 1ST ANNUAL KIDS FUN RUN Kids ages 4 to 12 (3 age groups) and a special 25 yard race for kids under 4. Come down for a Fun Run around Memorial Park (just under 1/4 mile) prior to Town Day on the common Saturday, June 17th. FREE entrance fee. 9:00 AM check in. 9:45 AM races begin. Sign up forms available at the Reading Recreation Department, and The Reading Trophy shop. Any questions, please contact friendsforr@verizon.net.

•Need some help on this week's trivia question? It is not Cy Young.

•THE NORTH READING BASEBALL SCHOOL will be conducting its camp during the following one-week sessions: June 26-30 and July 10-14. All one week sessions are held from 9 am to 3:30 p.m. daily. Ages 8 to 17 accepted. Tuition is $178 and includes daily lunch, soda, t-shirt, and cookout. Camp is held at North Reading High School. Call Coach Frank Carey at 781-842-4042 for more information.

•BURLINGTON'S AL SHIELDS, Bentley College's first director of athletics, was recently named as one of 25 charter inductees into the Northeast-10 Conference Hall of Fame. Shields was one of the founding fathers behind the Northeast-7 Conference and was its first commissioner, serving from 1980 to 1989.

•LYNNFIELD NATIVE ROSS COON is a 2006 inductee into the New England PGA Hall of Fame. Coon worked at Walpole CC, Clauson's Inn & Country Club, then at distinguished clubs across the country such as Canterbury in Ohio and Seminole in Florida before starting a 21-year career at Indian Ridge CC in Andover. Coon twice won the Wogan Award as the NEPGA Player of the Year, three times he captured the NEPGA Championship, and twice he was the winner of the Rhode Island Open. Coon played in five PGA Championships, two US Opens, one US Senior Open, and the 1988 Digital Senior Classic at Nashawtuc, just after he turned 50.

•ANSWER TO THIS WEEK'S TRIVIA QUESTION: Red Ruffing lost 25 games on the 1928 Red Sox. The next year he lost 12 in a row. He was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1967.

•DO YOU KNOW SOMETHING WE DON'T? If you have information about a local athlete that you would like to see appear in this column, please email it to readingchronicle@comcast.net, or mail it to: Paul Feely, Middlesex East Sports, P.O. Box 240, Reading, Ma., 01867, or call Paul at 781-944-2200 between 7 am and 3:30 pm, Monday through Friday, or fax information at 781-942-0884.

Figure skating

performing moment so far has been his clean free skate at the 2006 U.S. Championships and earning a spot on the World Junior team. He wants to be a sports medicine doctor or physical therapist. "I don't know," he says. "I don't know." He comes from a large family. His brother, Halsey, was a professional skater who competed in the 1998 and 2002 Winter Games, and his sister, who competed in all-scholastic syndicate skating team. His sister, Jacquie, plays

Both Carriere and Cannarozzo will be competing in Budapest, Hungary, in the Junior Grand Prix from August 31 to September 3. Although they have qualified as senior-level skaters, the age limit of 17 will allow them to not be more shot at the

He first senior competition will be the Liberty Open in Boston, Mass. This will be an important show as monitoring both hands from the U.S. Figure Skating Association to watch his performance.

Despite his wins over the years, Carriere has been able to retain his modesty and decorum. He talks with pride about the medals he has won, but is shy about "parading around in them."

"I think a lot of skaters are like that," Carriere said. "We are humble. We like to get the medals, but we don't like to flaunt them."

Carriere is not the only member of his family to make sacrifices for his career. Until he recently received his driver's license, his mother, Patricia, has had to cart him around to lessons and local events.

She has not been able to travel to the international events because of other family duties. However, his dad has earned the money to pay for the lessons and training and equipment that a champion needs to attain his goals.

People interested in making a donation to Carriere's career may send a tax-deductible donation to the New England Amateur Skating Foundation (NEASF). Please make your check payable to the NEASF and include a note stating that you wish your contribution to go towards the skating expenses of Stephen Carriere.

The address for contributions is:

New England Amateur Skating Foundation

Providence, RI 02940
Phone: (401) 861-9266
Fax: (401) 861-3628

The NEASF is a non-profit organization whose purpose is to assist competitive amateur skaters. All Regional, Sectional, National and International skaters are eligible for assistance.

The mission of the New England Amateur Skating Foundation is to help competitive skaters by defraying some of their ever-increasing expenses. With many skaters in need of support, the Foundation, a tax-exempt organization, offers the opportunity of sponsorship to anyone who would like to help.

Donations are received from both individuals and corporations. The monies collected are then used to defray skating-related expenses such as ice time, lessons, costumes, equipment, competition fees, strength training, ballet, off-ice classes and travel expenses.

The NEASF Allocations Committee reviews its information about a skater and allocates funds accordingly. Information reviewed includes comments and recommendations of clubs, professionals and donors, as well as the experience and competitive level of the skater.

Paul D'Angelo to perform at Stoneham Theatre

Who is the comedian/writer/actor that The Los Angeles Times calls "quite likely the funniest entertainer you've never heard of...yet?"

Paul Murphy of Wakefield spent ten and a half years as an Assistant District Attorney, supervising several of Massachusetts's busiest courthouses, before building a reputation as a noted criminal-defense trial attorney. The unexpected twist to this story is that, for nine of those years, under the pseudonym of Paul D'Angelo, Paul was simultaneously becoming one of the nation's top standup comedians.

D'Angelo was named 'Best of Boston' by Boston Magazine for a couple of years and just finished filming a stand-up comedy feature film in Chicago. While maintaining a full-time legal career, Paul rose from open-mike to headliner in less than six months and was selected to host his own weekly show at Boston's two premier comedy clubs, Nick's Comedy Stop and the Comedy Connection, for six and two years respectively.

In 1989 Paul had the honor of being chosen as a national finalist representing Boston in the Johnny Walker Comedy Search and was named "Boston's Best Comedian" in 1994 and 1995 by Boston Magazine... no insignificant feat in a city which has produced enormously successful comedy stars such as Jay Leno, Conan O'Brien, Paula Poundstone, Steven Wright, Anthony Clarke, Bobcat Goldthwait and Denis Leary. In 1997,

Paul was honored to be invited as a feature performer at the Montreal 'Just for Laughs' international comedy festival. He was also a national finalist in the 1999 San Francisco International Comedy Competition is currently a national finalist representing Boston in the 'Laughs Across America' comedy search sponsored by the Las Vegas Comedy Festival. Most recently, Paul was chosen as a national finalist from among thousands of contestants across the country in the 2005 Sierra Mist / Improv 'Next Great Comic Search'.

D'Angelo will be performing with his friend, singer/impressionist Joey Canzano, at Stoneham Theatre, Sunday evening June 25th at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $22 and can be purchased at 781-279-2200 www.stonehamtheatre.org

Movies

newbie to the series, this isn't the place to start.

In this installment, mutants and humans still seem wary of each other. Suddenly, a "cure" is announced to "suppress the mutant gene." And what seems to be barely suppressed contempt suddenly threatens to burst into war.

Many of the mutants, including Storm (Halle Berry), Wolverine (Hugh Jackman) and the newly introduced Beast (Kelsey Grammer) don't appreciate the idea of a "cure." Others, such as the despondent Rogue (Anna Paquin), who cannot touch people without killing them, seek to have their powers removed.

In the last movie, one of the X-Men, Jean Grey (Famke Janssen), was killed.

But she's back as Phoenix, whose powers are stronger than ever and whose suppression of them is almost non-existent.

Brett Ratner directed this installment, taking over for Bryan Singer (who is busy with "Superman Returns"), and while this film doesn't contain the character development and emotional conflicts that the second movie did, it brims with action.

The movie does feel a bit crowded, which may have to do more with the short running time (107 minutes) more than anything else. There's a lot going on here, which prevents a major focus on any of the characters.

But what it lacks in character development it makes up for in spectacle, including a beautiful sequence that involves the destruction of the Golden Gate Bridge.

By the way, all fans take note: be sure to stay through the credits. The revelation you see at the end before the credits isn't really the big "reveal." That comes after the credits, and is worth the wait.

"THE DA VINCI CODE"

GRADE: **

Based on Dan Brown's best-selling novel, "The Da Vinci Code" spins a web of murder, deceit and a fictional conspiracy that, if exposed, could shake Christianity to its very foundations. Throw in a quest for the Holy Grail as well, and you have the makings of what should be a fairly decent summer thriller.

Think again.

A convoluted plot bogs down "The Da Vinci Code", and requires too much audience attention. And director Ron Howard's meticulous approach - not to mention the scholarly subject matter - robs the story of much of its tension. Ideally, this sort

from S-2

the United States and parts of Canada, entertaining crowds with his earthy style, great impressions, and clean but sarcastic view of the world.

Lynch has also appeared on Comedy Central and has performed at all the major Boston venues as well as The Mohegan Sun Casino in Connecticut, The Borgata Casino in Atlantic City, The Improv in Miami Beach, The Punchline in Atlanta, Georgia, the Comedy Works in Montreal, Canada, as well as many colleges up and down the East Coast.

Also appearing on the card will be host Mike Smith, a New Hampshire educator and writer, who is caught in a world between trying to be a good husband and good parent while at the same time hoping to keep his mother happy, which according to Smith, is an impossible task leading one to a world of insanity.

The show begins at 8 p.m. Tickets are $5 per person and can be purchased in advance at the hotel's front desk, or at the door on the night of the show.

of movie should cruise along at express-train speed, but "Da Vinci's" plods along, wrapping of 2,000 years of religious teachings in two and a half hours.

The story begins with a murder in the halls of Paris' Louvre Museum, and the mysterious symbols surrounding the body of the victim, a renowned curator.

Harvard symbologist Robert Langdon (Tom Hanks) happens to be lecturing in Paris - which makes him a suspect in the mind of detective Bèzu Fache (Jean Reno).

Lucky for Robert that police cryptologist Sophie Neveu (Audrey Tautou) also arrives on the scene - and helps Robert evade certain arrest.

They uncover a plot involving two clandestine religious organizations - one charged with preserving a centuries-old secret, the other with bumping off those who know it.

The shadowy trail leads Robert and Sophie from Paris to London and points in between, as they run from a murderous monk (Paul Bettany).

The book by author Dan Brown that the film is based on was a fun read, but the big screen version is too long.

feel that I've met the challenge that I was sent here to do. Both the students and the staff are secure and happy to come to school each day. The school is ready for new leadership.

Winners all in North Reading

"The National Science Teachers Association announced that a team of third graders from the Batchelder School is a regional winner in the national ExploraVision competition again," notes the "North Reading Transcript."

"This is the third straight year that Batchelder third graders have fielded a regional winning team in the NSTA-Toshiba ExploraVision competition, where more than 4,000 teams solve self-selected problems with innovative, futuristic ideas that combine imagination and scientific principles.

"The winning Batchelder team of Casey Fitzgerald, Owen Stadel, Nicholas MacNeil, and Gregory Piscitello was mentored by Scott MacNeil and coached by third grade teacher Kathy Bythrow. Their invention, 2020 Health Vision, is a machine that will identify an individual's health problems early without a visit to the doctor. The user places a test strip on his tongue, then inserts the strip into a small machine. After the machine analyzes the strip, it displays the results and any instructions on a small screen and allows for wireless communication with the user's doctor, if necessary.

"Each member of the winning team, along with their mentor and coach, received a Toshiba DVD/CD/VHS player, and the Batchelder School received a Toshiba laptop computer loaded with software."

Cathy Paolillo top sales producer at Greer's

WAKEFIELD - Bob Winsor, president and owner of Century 21 Greer's, is proud to announce Top Producing Sales Associate for April 2006 was Cathy Paolillo.

CATHY PAOLILLO

Cathy began as a Realtor with Century 21 Greer's in 1998 after a well established career in retail. Combining her expertise in marketing, sales and management with her strong customer service skills she built a loyal Client base and a successful career as a Realtor. A consistent top level producer, Cathy makes it her business to keep on top of current laws and the latest marketing trends by attending seminars and outside training in her spare time. It is Cathy's belief that "The finest compliment one can ever receive is a referral from a friend or past customer".

Paolillo is a recipient of Century 21 International's most prestigious award, "The Centurion Award" and many others including Century 21 International's Diamond Masters Award. She is a member of the Million Dollar Club, the National Association of Realtors (NAR), Massachusetts Association of Realtors (MAR), and Eastern Middlesex Board of Realtors (EMAR).

Spindler-O'Neil honors Previte and Shaw as top producers

Century 21 Spindler & O'Neil is pleased to announce that Century 21 LLC recently recognized both Mathew Previte and Valerie Shaw, sales associates with the office, as two of the System's top producers nationwide when it honored them with the coveted Emerald Level Century 21 Masters Award.

Emerald level status is awarded to top level agents. The pair successfully closed approximately $20 million in local properties during 2005. A gold plated lapel pin with emerald accent is awarded to the agents during an Awards Ceremony, in addition to a trophy and a personal invitation to attend a Century 21 Top Agent Retreat.

"Mathew and Valerie place their real estate wisdom and passion for life into their everyday business helping to make clients more comfortable with real estate transaction as they make what may be the most significant purchase of their lives," said David O'Neil, broker/owner of Century 21 Spindler & O'Neil. "Both Mathew and Valerie are valued and trusted real estate resources for the Boston Metro North area and major contributors to the overall success of our office and the Century 21 System as a whole," adds Joyce Spindler, broker/owner of Century 21 Spindler & O'Neil.

"We are both truly honored to receive the Masters Award and be recognized among such talented and dedicated group of real estate professionals," said Valerie.

Century 21 Spindler & O'Neil is a full-service brokerage located at 247 Main Street, North Reading and specializes in residential properties.

Boating & You

Things to know before you go
by Tom Lucet

It's time to get serious about the 2006 boating season and there's an array of literature and brochures out there for anyone who's looking for the latest in wave-worthy vessels, accessories, programs and more. In particular, the Hunter Marine Corporation in Florida is featuring a new crest of the wave sailboat that's now available on the market. The Hunter 49 is a large luxury cruiser with easy sailing features and performance capabilities. Hunter Marine delivers the thrill of adventure in boating to 46 countries. For more information on this particular boat or other Hunter models, go online and visit www.huntermarine.com.

For those who are looking for a much smaller vessel, consider a kayak. Models can be purchased in a form that's ready-to-launch, while others are sold in kits or in simple plan form. For those who intend on building their own kayak, it's recommended that they consider the following issues. Do you have the means, mechanical know-how, motivation, materials, and tools to construct a kayak. Building any boat involves a serious time commitment, a place to work and knowledge of the waters in which to paddle. Novice kayakers can get involved in this popular sport fairly easily. Contact a canoe and kayak club or facility that offers lessons and day rentals. Foote Brothers in Ipswich (978-356-9771) and the Kayak Learning Center in Beverly (978-922-5322) are perfect places to try your hand at this sport.

In recent weeks, yacht clubs, large and small, have been preparing for the 2006 boating season which got underway on Memorial Day weekend. The Quannapowitt Yacht Club in Wakefield recently held a series of open house events and the club will be offering an array of summer programs and lessons for boating enthusiasts.

In fact, boating enthusiasts who know of an upcoming open house or other event at an area yacht club are urged to submit event and contact information to the Middlesex East Boating Column, which will be publishing such news items throughout the summer months.

The U.S. Power Squadron and the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary always host very interesting and informative courses, open houses and family events. Courses offered require special

QSA GLOBAL

Formerly AEA Technology QSA, Inc.

Our technology kept the Liberty Bell safe.

We can do the same for your future.

Our technology was used to radiograph the Liberty Bell to assess its solidity. Today, we provide highly engineered radioactive sources and products for security, industrial, defense and medical markets and more. We have the most advanced operations for radioactive sealed source manufacturing and source processing in the world. And that means plenty of opportunity and security for you and your future.

SHIPPING/RECEIVING

A detail oriented individual is needed to ship and receive radioactive and non-radioactive packages. This is an excellent opportunity to be trained as a Distribution Technician. Experience handling and preparing hazardous material, forklift experience and knowledge of the FedEx and UPS manifest systems desired. Must be able to lift up to 85 lbs.

Our comprehensive benefits include medical, dental, 401(k) (with company match) and pension plans. Please send resume/letter of interest to: Human Resources, QSA Global, Inc., 40 North Avenue, Burlington, MA 01803 Fax: 781-229-2279 An ISO 9001 certified company. EOE
